12 GIs Reportedly Died In Laos Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. says the Nixon administration decision not to fight repeal of the Tonkin Gulf resolution "sets the stage for a new joint decision on what is going on in Laos."

The Maryland Republican is credited with getting the tacit White House acceptance of his move to set aside the Tonkin Gulf resolution, used by the Johnson administration as the legal basis for massive intervention in Vietnam.

He says he hopes hearings into his repeal move starting today by Sen. J. W. Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee will lead as well to close examination of U.S.-Laotian involvement.

The hearings are set against a backdrop of continued confusion and differing reports over the American role in the tiny Southeast Asian nation that neighbors Vietnam.

After first denying any ground combat troops were in Laos, or that Americans had been killed in ground fighting, the administration has conceded some U.S. casualties in hostile action.

But in no past administration account was there any mention of an incident reported by the Washington Post in today's edition. The newspaper, in an account written from Vientiane by T. D. Allman, said more than 12 Americans were killed two years ago when Communist troops overran a secret U.S. radar installation in northeast Laos, near the North Vietnamese border.

Bureaucrats Shatter U.S. Employee Image

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dissident young bureaucrats, angry over such issues as the Vietnam war and the Nixon administration's civil rights policies, are shattering the stereotype of the federal employee as a faceless civil servant.

To the increasing discomfort of their politically appointed bosses, a vocal minority among the under-40 crowd in government is making discernible waves in a distinctly unservice fashion.

Carswell Okay In Debate Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell reached the debate stage in the Senate today with opponents promising an exhaustive look at the nominee's controversial record.

Carswell backers, planning to open debate with brief statements, were depending on more of a defensive strategy aimed at countering attacks on their man's civil rights positions and his legal stature.

"We'll answer the criticism and we'll match it blow-by-blow," one Carswell supporter said in advance of the debate.

It is expected to take a week, possibly two, before a vote and the length of the floor discussion on Carswell, a federal appeals court judge who lives in Tallahassee, Fla., was clearly on the minds of strategists for both sides.

The Carswell supporter said "we want any delay or lengthy debate to be clearly the other side's doing."

With the opening of debate there were the usual declarations of strength by both sides. Supporters have claimed at various points an edge of up to 2 to 1 in their favor. Bayh last Friday said opponents had about 40 votes in their camp.

An Associated Press poll last week indicated 22 senators publicly on record against Carswell, while 38 had come out in favor. The rest were uncommitted or undecided.

Stop Bombing In Laos, Red Leader Says

MOSCOW (AP) — Accusing the United States of armed interference in Laos, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin has told President Nixon all American bombing of Laotian soil must stop before the Laotians can begin peace talks.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Kosygin had written Nixon "in view of the aggravation of the situation in Laos as a result of the U.S. armed interference and since the neutrality of Laos is envisaged by the 1962 Geneva agreements."

"The restoration of peace should be started with consultations between political forces," the letter continued.

"The Central Committee of the Patriotic Front of Laos (the Pathet Lao) advanced recently a concrete and quite realistic five-point program of settling the problem."

"It is necessary first of all for the United States to stop speedily the escalation of the war and stop fully and unconditionally the bombings of Laotian territory. Only this can create conditions for the interested Laotian sides to meet."

Kosygin said his government would welcome contact between Prince Souvanna Phouma, the Laotian premier, and his adversary and half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the titular leader of the Pathet Lao.

"This is the road that can assure, in the event of the ending of the American intervention, a relaxation of tension in Laos and the creation of conditions for a political settlement in that country," Kosygin wrote.

Seek Formation Of Police Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Law officers from a number of cities will meet here this week to launch a renewed drive for a national policemen's union under an AFL-CIO charter.

"The first and foremost thing is to take the policeman out of this second class citizens' status and help him find his rightful place in the sun," said John Cassese, acting president of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers.

The union won't claim the right to strike, Cassese said in an interview, but "on the national scene, we'll seek to have collective bargaining rights. Also on the state level."

RED CROSS rescuers remove bodies of some of the 60 charred victims killed in a collision of four vehicles on a Mexico-Pachuca highway last Friday. A truck loaded with alcohol cans was involved in the crash with two passenger buses and a station wagon. Explosion of the alcohol cargo followed the impact. Drug Epidemic Big Problem; It Knows No 'Social Justice'

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer

In Huntington, W. Va., the cops say "Keep off the Grass." In Detroit, high school students warn, "Watch your step. Don't trip."

Slogans like these—along with "underground switchboards," "come down rooms," pamphlets, courses for the 4th, 5th, and 6th graders, lectures by policemen and former dope addicts, training of teachers in the dangers of drugs, advertising campaigns—are all part of a mushrooming nationwide struggle against narcotics abuse, especially among young people.

Breaking Habit, Aim
The aim is to convince youngsters to stay off drugs, or if this is too late, at least to help them break the habit.

The drug epidemic is fast becoming one of the nation's foremost problems, cutting across all social and class lines.

Last year in New York City there were 224 teen-agers among the 900 who died of heroin use. Thus far this year, there have been 46 teen-agers, a growing percentage, among the 167 heroin deaths.

Nixon Concerned
It is too early to tell if the antidrug efforts are doing any good, and there is little coordination to the many programs growing up around the country.

President Nixon last week expressed his concern about the "alarming rate" of drug addiction among school-age youth and announced an expanded federal effort to warn youngsters of the dangers involved.

He called for $135.6 million in education and research funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, up from $105.8 million in the current budget. The program would include the training of teachers in drug abuse education and the creation of a National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse and Education, "giving the public one central office to contact."

Plans Formulated
Here are some of the drug-fighting efforts already underway at the state, local and private level:

—An experimental "crash pad" service was set up last December in four San Francisco high schools to help students suffering from drug effects. All four crash pads draw more than 100 students a day.

—Huntington city police and Union Women's Club in that West Virginia city have split the cost of 10,000 drug abuse pamphlets being passed out wherever the police "Keep off the Grass" educational program is presented. Grass is a term for marijuana, or pot.

—Nearly 100 physicians, pharmacists and nurses are

Crew Seizes U.S. Ship Bound For War Zone

24 Men Set Adrift In Possible Mutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today it has received fragmentary information indicating that the two mutiners aboard the American cargo ship Columbia Eagle have been removed by Cambodian authorities.

The Pentagon said it understands that 13 other crewmen including the skipper remained aboard the vessel.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A skeleton crew of "possibly mutinous" merchant seamen apparently has seized control of an American munitions vessel and sailed into sheltered Cambodian waters in the Gulf of Siam.

The 7,600-ton Columbia Eagle was bound for Thailand with a load of 500-pound and 750-pound bombs when it was diverted from its charted course, the Pentagon said.

Twenty-four members of the ship's 39-man crew were set adrift on open seas in two lifeboats, but were reported picked up by another munitions-carrying cargo vessel enroute to Thailand.

Stressing that it had only fragmentary information, the Pentagon said Sunday, "It appears that the American cargo ship was diverted in international waters by persons aboard, possibly mutinous members of the civilian crew."

The Columbia Eagle was anchored Monday in Cambodian waters 26 miles off the Cambodian coast and four to five miles southwest of the nearest land. U.S. Navy and Air Force maps show the area as barred to this country's surface vessels and aircraft.

The U.S. charge d'affaires in Phnom Penh, Lloyd M. Rives, informed the State Department he had asked the Cambodian government either to authorize him to go aboard the vessel or to send someone themselves.

No Action
No immediate action was taken, but Rives reported he expected further developments during the day.

The Rappahannock, the U.S. freighter which picked up 24 crewmen from lifeboats Saturday, reached the Thai port of Vayama near Sattahip, but newsmen were not allowed into the port area to interview the men.

The ship is owned by the Columbia Steamship Co. in Portland, Ore. Irving Thayer, president of the firm, said the vessel left the West Coast Feb. 20. Its crew consisted entirely of U.S. citizens, including six naturalized Poles, Filipinos and Australians, he said.

Under Surveillance
The vessel was kept under surveillance in the Gulf of Siam by Navy aircraft and the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Mellon.

Most of its early information, the Pentagon said, came from the Rappahannock, the cargo vessel that reported picking up the 24 crew members Saturday.

There was no clear, immediate indication when the ship actually was seized.

Officials said they were unable to provide any information about the other 15 crew members who presumably remained aboard the 25-year old World War II-era Columbia Eagle when it sailed into Cambodian waters and lay near a small island west of Silhanoukville.

Captain's Status Not Clear
It also was unclear whether the captain of the Columbia Eagle, 51-year old Donald A. Swann of Portland, Ore., was still with his ship.

One naval source familiar with message transmissions from the Columbia Eagle and the Rappahannock said "there has not been a word that indicates any violence" in the incident. The Pentagon said no distress call was received from the Columbia Eagle.

But the New York Times reported in today's editions that officials had disclosed a message from the Columbia Eagle saying "men with guns" had taken over the ship.

Peace Movement?
The Times also said government officials, who refused to be identified, had indicated in Washington that on the basis of information available it appeared the Columbia Eagle's seizure was linked with peace movements in the United States.

The Times account said officials reported "growing evidence" that the ringleaders tricked 24 crewmen into abandoning ship with a bomb scare, then forced the other crew members at gunpoint to head for Cambodia in an effort to embarrass President Nixon.

The Pentagon declined comment on the Times report.

Thayer said the only information he had about the incident was being provided by the Navy.

Brazil Searching For Kidnapers Of Japanese Aide
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The Brazilian government pressed its hunt for the kidnapers of Japanese Consul-General Nobuo Okuchi with renewed vigor today as the 56-year-old diplomat rested at home from his four-day ordeal. Meanwhile, the five political prisoners exchanged for him charged in Mexico that they had been tortured in Brazilian jails.

The police hunt had been suspended in compliance with a demand from the leftist terror organization which forced Okuchi from his car last Wednesday. The military-police team went back to work soon after a taxi deposited the consul half a block from his residence Sunday night, tired but unhurt.

Meeting Tuesday:

Mead, C&NW Before State Air Commission

It will be "Delta County Day" at the meeting of the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission in Lansing Tuesday.

The Commission meets at the Capitol Park Motel near the State Capitol Building and two Delta County cases are on the agenda.

Mead Corp. will make an appearance at 10 a.m. for a hearing on its application for a permit to construct a kraft process pulp mill at the Escanaba Paper Co.

At 1:30 p.m., the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is scheduled to present a progress report on its plans to control dust from the Escanaba iron ore storage and ship loading terminal.

County Delegation
Both situations have generated public protests in the area and the Delta County Board of Supervisors which is considering an air pollution control ordinance for the county will be represented at the meeting by Frank Stupak, chairman, and board members Stanley Dominick of Ensign and H. George Nelson of Escanaba.

In addition, the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air will be represented by Amer Pederson, president, and John Walbridge, Ray Sabuco and Dr. William Hemes.

The Save Our Air committee, which was organized nearly a year ago after the plans of the Mead Corp. for a pulp mill were revealed, also has been active in the C&NW dust situation, serving as spokesman for north Escanaba residents living near the terminal.

Plans Presented
The Mead Corp. will be represented by O. C. Christiansen, manager of the Escanaba Paper Co.; Robert Arvold of Dayton, vice president; Virgil Minch of Chillicothe, an engineer in Mead's research and technical services division, and possibly other corporate officials.

The C&NW will be represented by W. H. Huffman of Chicago, assistant vice president and chief engineer.

Plans by Mead Corp. to control odors from the proposed kraft process pulp mill have been provided to the Air Pollution Control Commission and have been under review by State Health Dept. engineers.

The company has said that the system it plans to install in Escanaba is unlike any in operation anywhere and will confine odors from the proposed mill to the immediate mill property during times of normal operation. The Save Our Air Committee has charged that no adequate controls ever have been designed for the kraft process and has voiced concern that odors may be common throughout the entire area.

The C&NW case has been before the Air Pollution Commission since its meeting in Escanaba last October and Huffman already has made two progress reports. Final specifications on the dust control plans are expected to be presented Tuesday and if given approval by the commission the C&NW expects to proceed in ordering necessary equipment.

MY LAI CHARGES — Capt. Ernest L. Medina, (above) is the tenth man to face charges over the alleged My Lai massacre in South Vietnam. Medina, 33, Picot Rivera, Calif., is charged with murder and mutilation. His case is the first maiming accusation to be raised.

AMVETS Join In Seeking Answer To Air Pollution

Amvets Escanaba Post No. 123 is taking an active role in anti-pollution efforts and Commander Jerome Bernier has named Tom Nault chairman of the Amvets' pollution control committee.

The action followed adoption of a resolution by the Amvets at a meeting on Thursday.

The resolution deplors "the amount of air pollution created by dust from loading and unloading iron pellets by the Chicago & North Western Railroad at their dock terminal in Escanaba as a local example of air pollution."

Further, the resolution notes the "polluting of rivers, lakes, and air by any industrial or civic establishment, by the dumping of harmful solvents or insufficiently treated sewage in the waters;" and

"The building of new industrial establishments without properly tried and tested devices for maintaining clear air and water," the Amvets: "Join the ranks of those seeking a successful solution of this problem and the commander appoint a committee to take an active part in working, as representatives of the whole organization, in this great public service."

Marinette Fire Kills 5 Children

MARINETTE — Five children, aged four to 10, died early Saturday in a fire which destroyed their home.

Found dead of suffocation and burns at the scene of the blaze were William John, 4; Becky John, 5; Ricky Lewis, 7; Mike Lewis, 8, and Kim Lewis, 10. The three Lewis boys were children of Mrs. Harold John by a former marriage.

Another boy, John Lewis, 11, and Mrs. John were in a Marinette hospital.

Mrs. John landed on an automobile parked in the driveway, and was hospitalized for treatment of fractures, internal injuries and shock.

Died Of Smoke
Her son, John, suffered severe cuts when he landed in broken glass after hanging on to a television wire leading to the house. He was also hospitalized.

Harold John, the father, emerged uninjured after escaping through a window. He told officials that after getting out of the house at 338 Hattie St. he was unable to re-enter in his efforts to rescue the others.

Coroner Dick Matty said that all deaths were due principally to smoke, which filled the house. The interior was gutted in the blaze, which was reported about 5:15 a.m.

Fire Capt. Francis Erickson said a clock in the Johns' living room had stopped at 4:30 a.m., indicating the blaze may have started before that and interrupted electrical service.

Capt. Erickson said three children were found in the parents' bedroom in the rear of the two story frame structure. They had been sleeping in a front bedroom.

"The littlest was up against a wall," Erickson said. "Two others were across the foot of the bed."

The two other children were found in bed in another front room, he continued.

Felch Branch Appeal Filed

IRON MOUNTAIN — Verification of an appeal to an order permitting abandonment of 35 miles of Chicago & North Western Railway Co. branch line between Felch and Naren-ta has been received by Halmer Dahlgren, secretary-treasurer of the Felch Rock Quarry Corp.

Dahlgren said he received a telegram from Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Michigan) Saturday stating "Michigan's Public Service Commission advised me appeal was mailed Monday and should reach the Interstate Commerce Commission today."

The order to permit abandonment of the line serving rural areas of Dickinson, Delta and Menominee counties was issued last month by James Moran, hearings examiner for the ICC, following a public hearing in Escanaba Sept. 18, 1969.

Deadline for appeals to the order was originally set for March 11, but was extended by the ICC to April 3.

"The appeal," Dahlgren said, "means the railroad will have to continue to operate to give service to the people of the area."

He said that the C&NW is giving limited service at present, primarily hauling pulp-wood for area loggers and wood from the Perronville mill oper-ated by Roger Stebbins.

Strong opposition to the abandonment has been voiced by residents of the Felch, Perronville, Foster City areas, the state attorney general's office, timber and forest industry representatives, county officials and others who claim that the economic picture future of the area is totally dependent on rail shipments on the line.

Two Applications Okayed By City Board Of Appeals

The Escanaba Board of Appeals has approved and is recommending to the City Council the following:

1 — A continuing non-con-forming use of the property at 18th Ave. S. and Lake Shore Drive; and 2 — Construction of a Holiday Gas Station Store at 6th Ave. N. and Lincoln Rd.

In approving the non-con-forming use requested by Har-old F. Cloutier and Alvin P. Ness, the Board established limitations for the use of the former Wilbert Burial Vault Works to a dead storage and small engine repair facility.

The restrictions include: That it be a self-employed operation; that noise be kept to a mini-mum; there be no testing of engines before 8 a.m. and after 9 p.m.; and there be no litter around the building.

The application for the Hol-iday Station was made by John Walch and there were no ob-jections.

Society To Hear Delta's 'Ghost Town' Explorers

The hobby of using a metal detector to find lost "treasure" — including the locating of some of Delta County's long-abandoned "ghost towns" — will be described to the Histor-ical Society Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Delta County Historical Museum.

The program will be present-ed by Mr. and Mrs. William Daniels of 2317 Ludington St., who will also demonstrate the use of the metal detector and exhibit some of their finds.

Members are invited to bring friends and interested persons will be welcomed, said Mrs. Clint Dunathan, Society pres-ident. A social hour will follow the program.

Edward Miller Taken By Death

Edward Miller, 84, of 520 1st Ave. S., died Sunday afternoon at Medi Center where he had been a patient for one month.

He was born Sept. 22, 1885 in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and was a former resident of Daggett where he was self employed as a farmer and also had oper-ated a cheese factory.

He had resided in Escanaba since 1944 and in later years had been employed as custodian at the Escanaba Public Library until his retirement 10 years ago.

He is survived by his widow, the former Louisa Gilbert; two daughter, Mrs. Frank (Marian) Adams of Bark River and Mrs. Geneva Ekquist of Waukegan; one son, Sidney Miller of Muskegon, 11 grandchildren and four great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Martha Villa and a brother, Oscar Miller, both of Sturgeon Bay.

Friends may call Tuesday after 4 p.m. at the Boyce Fu-neral Home and complete fu-neral services will be conduct-ed at 2 p.m. Wednesday with the Rev. David Liscomb offici-ating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doc-tor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® ac-tually shrinks inflamed hemor-rhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Charge Youths Had Marijuana

MENOMINEE — Two Escanaba young men, Gary C. Abrahamson and Michael H. Bis-son, both 19, are charged here with possession of marijuana and are held in jail in default of $2,000 bond.

They were arrested at 3:35 p.m. Friday by Menominee po-lice in cooperation with law enforcement officers from Mar-quette, sheriff's officers, and the State Police of the Stephenson post.

Officers said the arrests fol-lowed an investigation into al-leged transportation of mari-juana from Oshkosh to Escanaba.

Abrahamson and Bisson were questioned at the City Hall here following their arrest and their car was searched. Offi-cers reported they found 27 packets of marijuana valued at approximately $100 in a jacket in the car.

Before Magistrate Emil Ewald today, Abrahamson waived preliminary hearing and Bisson demanded per-trial hearing and the court will ap-point an attorney to represent him.

Parents Of 8th Grade Catholic Students To Meet

Parents of over 400 Catholic 8th grade students in the Delta County area have been invited to meet at 8 tonight in the multi-purpose room at Holy Name High School. The purpose is to give parents the opportunity to discuss with other parents and with educators their children's high school choices and careers.

Rev. Vincent L. Ouellette, super-intendent of Holy Name will lead a discussion in the Christian atmosphere of a Catholic school. Sister Christine, SSND and Brother Mark, FSC, jrncipals, will explain the Holy Name program. Kenneth Bray, academic and vocational coun-selor, will explain his work, and Rev. Wayne Marcotte, director of the Religion Department will discuss this aspect of the Holy Name curriculum.

The program will take about one hour, interested parents are invited, and those who wish may tour the school buildings after the meeting.

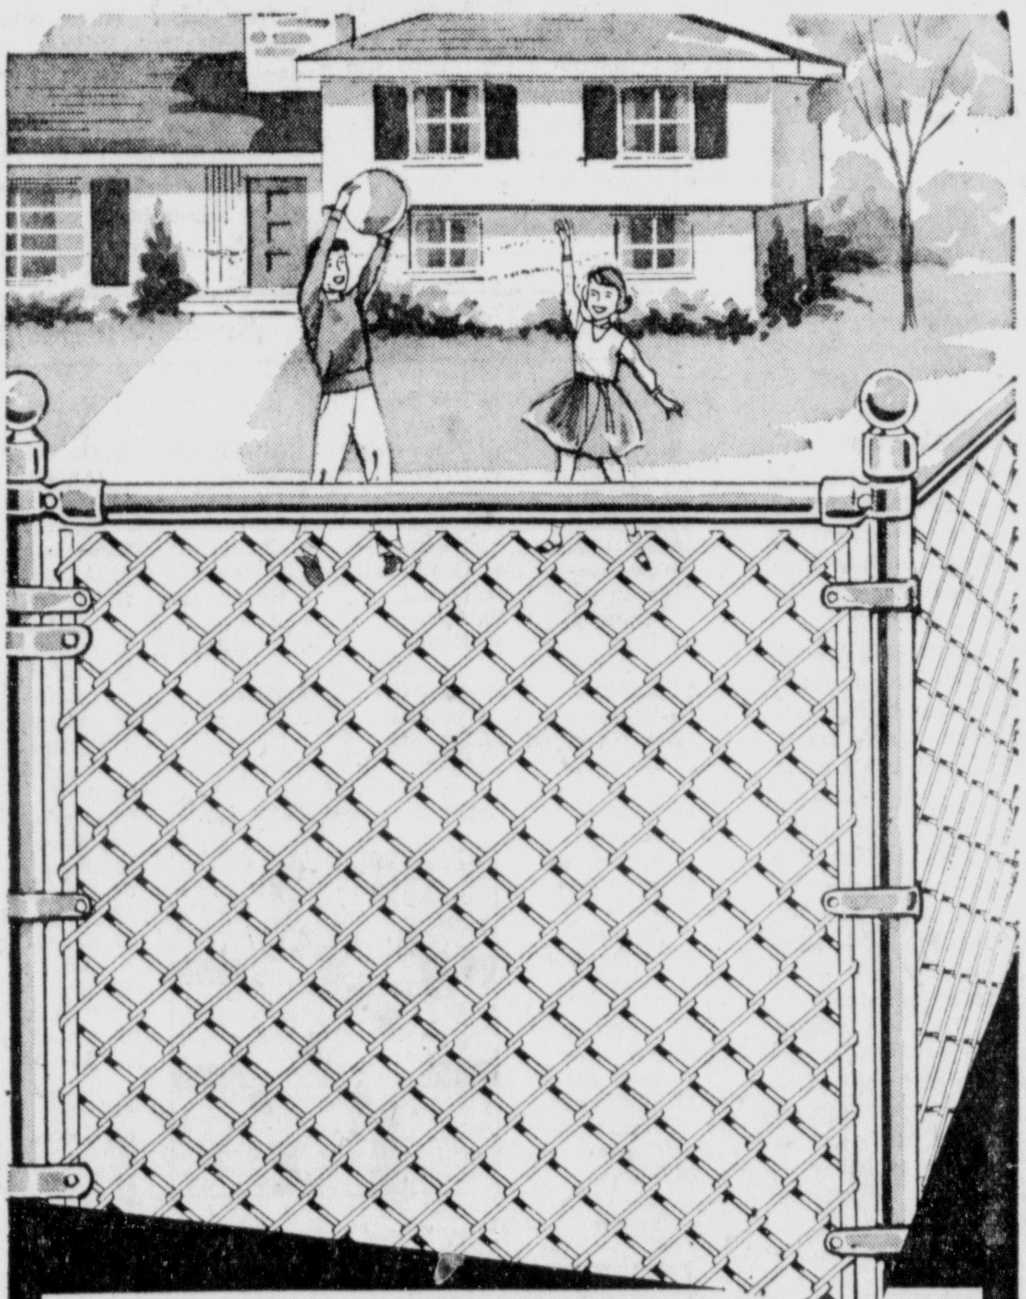

Not a sign of that collision when our experts re-con-dition your car. Fine work at moderate prices.

Look Ahead

An area like the Upper Peninsula where industrial development is the "number one" priority or problem, at least according to the sampling of opinion taken by the Upper Peninsula Town Meeting of the Air a couple of months ago, doesn't enjoy losing what industry it already has. So the announcement in Escanaba Friday by Harnischfeger Corp. that its Electrical Products plant on Stephenson Ave. will cease operations June 1 must be regarded as a setback for the community.

The Electrical Products Division, formerly the welding products division, was Escanaba's first association with Harnischfeger and while employment in recent months has not approached what it was when the plant was operating to greater capacity, there are still 92 employees and in a community of this size 92 jobs do not come easily. Organizations like the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress (UPCAP) and industrial development groups have devoted countless hours trying to promote plants with far less potential than that.

But if the decision of the company and Chemtron Corp. Chicago, dictates that the Electric Products Division must be closed, there is little the community can do about it. Attention must be turned to the future.

For the employees of the plant, there has to be concern about their individual futures. Fortunately, the company had the foresight and wisdom to provide both time and opportunity.

Jack P. Williams, plant manager, said in making the closure announcement that "all hourly and salaried clerical employees will be given the opportunity to transfer to the company's Construction Equipment Plant on Danforth Road." Obviously, some retraining will be necessary for some employees, but if the opportunities offered are in comparable positions and wage rates are on a par the new opportunities will minimize the impact of the closing. Men and women even will be able to retain their years of seniority with the corporation.

Williams also said that management personnel will be reassigned to other divisions of the company. And while this will have a disrupting influence on some families and probably cost the community some excellent citizens at least jobs are assured.

Some of the employees, of course, may elect to go elsewhere. With the announcement coming now, they have time to search out other employment before their paydays stop.

For the community there is another concern. Possibly there is an opportunity in the existence of the city-owned building.

Although no announcements have been made about the plant, Williams said discussions between Harnischfeger and the city are continuing. If the corporation has no further use for the building, it could serve as the home for a new industry, providing even greater employment than the Harnischfeger operation does at present. Just from the past employment levels at the plant, there is no question that the building is large enough to support a larger work force.

It's difficult to find much that is positive about an industrial operation closing in a community, but no benefit comes from looking back. The people of the area must forget about the past and concentrate on the future.

And who knows, maybe the unfortunate situation of the present can be turned into a gain in the years ahead.

Black Panthers

In the effete intellectual circles described by Vice President Spiro Agnew, the idea persists that Black Panthers really are romantic heroes who are being persecuted by the police and the courts.

Police records of cities from coast to coast reveal a bloody picture of crime and violence in which Black Panther leaders have been involved.

Last year more than 350 Black Panthers were arrested for more than 150 serious crimes, including murder, rape, armed robbery, auto theft, bank robberies, narcotics traffic, rioting, illegal gun possession, possession of bombs, etc. On numerous occasions Black Panther leaders have exhorted their followers to kill the police. "Off The Pigs" is the way they put it.

But the effete being effete, it is doubtful they are interested in those facts. They are unimpressed by Mr. Agne and the testimony of police state enforcers.

Perhaps, though, they will lend an ear to Conductor Leonard Bernstein who, like them, felt sorry for the Panthers. Bernstein conducted a soiree to raise funds for their legal defense and on occasion dug into his own pocket.

Bernstein is now sadder and wiser.

"I did it," he explained, "not because I necessarily believed in what the Panthers stood for but because they were people. People who were getting a rough deal and needed help."

"But it was the Panthers themselves who spoiled the deal. They won't be rational. It's too complicated to go into but the fund-raising is now in a terrible mess."

"They're a bad lot," Bernstein concluded. "They have behaved very badly. They have laid their own graves."

Among those who glorify the Black Panthers the distinguished conductor's testimony probably will fall on deaf ears.

After all, for all they know Bernstein may be a secret member of the Silent Majority.

The Ontonagon Village Housing Commission has made application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for funds to expand the present Senior Citizens development in Ontonagon by an additional 60 units. Application for the $25,000 loan was filed with the Regional HUD office in Chicago. If granted, the funds will be used for preliminary engineering and land acquisition in the present Cane Court area, if found feasible.

Latin Americans Play Soviets Vs. Americans

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

A "law and order" man, the anti-Communist army Col. Carlos Arana Osorio, has won a legitimate presidential election in Guatemala. So we might say that things are looking up for "our side" in Latin America.

"Oh, yeah?" counters the U. S. Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, which promptly bombards the White House with a long telegram pointing to the evidence of increasing Soviet-Castro collaboration in most of Latin America south of Guatemala.

So what are we to believe? Daniel James's beautifully done biography of the late guerrilla chieftain Che Guevara, might, if taken out of the context of recent history, be set down as a comforting study. For Che's attempt to repeat his Cuban success by raising a peasant Castroite revolution in the jungles of southeastern Bolivia failed utterly.

A band of invading Cuban veterans of the anti-Batista struggle, led by Che himself with some minor native help, was annihilated by Bolivian rangers who had had the benefit of U. S. counter-insurgency training. Che, who had disappeared from Cuba to take part in an unsuccessful uprising in the Congo before going on to Bolivia, was killed by his Bolivian captors—and that was, supposedly, that. Bolivia was "safe" for the time being.

This was a most lucky thing, for a successful Castroite revolution in the very heart of Latin America (Bolivia, though land-locked, has contiguous boundaries with Peru, Chile, Argentina, Paraguay, and Brazil) would have endangered the whole southern part of a continent.

A careful reading of Daniel James's text, however, leads to less comforting conclusions. What Che Guevara's failure to create "two, three, many Vietnams" (his phrase) in South America proved was that peasant revolutions aren't practicable. It is the cities that count in Latin America, even in the least developed areas. Che failed to rouse the Bolivian peasantry, but, more damaging, he couldn't win the city-and-tin-mine-based proletariat on his side. The Bolivian Communist Party left him severely alone.

The ironic thing about Bolivia is that General Ovando, who was the boss of the army that cornered Che Guevara, is now, as the President of his country, taking it in a "leftist national" direction that is eminently satisfactory to the Soviet Union.

As a matter of fact, the Soviets were happy to see Guevara fall in Bolivia; there is even evidence that it was a Soviet agent, Tania Bunke, who betrayed Che. And Fidel Castro, who was once Che Guevara's brother-in-arms, can do nothing better than go along with Soviet Latin American policy. Cuba depends utterly on the Soviets for both economic and military support.

The point is that the U. S. is now being subjected to indirect blackmail throughout Latin America.

The Soviets have made a tacit offer to President Rafael Caldera of Venezuela to call off the guerrillas in the countryside if satisfactory trade deals are forthcoming. The Peruvians, who are "leftist nationalists" like the Bolivians, have made a $15 million trade agreement with Communist Hungary.

The new game in Latin America is to play the U. S. and the Russians off against each other. A report in Atlas magazine predicts that the Bolivian government will, quite cynically, try to use the image of the dead Che Guevara to further its own aims. Che, according to this prognostication, will be portrayed as a hero who was done in, not by a Soviet woman agent working in ca-

Murder Rap

DETROIT (AP)—Alonzo Burford, 29, Detroit, has been ordered held without bond on a charge of first-degree murder for the slaying of a Detroit policeman last week. Examination has been set for March 20. Burford is accused of murdering Patrolman William Slappey in the shooting at a Detroit residence.

Letters To The Press

FISH COMPROMISE?

In a recent Daily Press editorial it was stated fishermen are prone to forget the enthusiasm experienced when salmon were first introduced into the Great Lakes.

For the most part this statement is true, however, it fails to take into consideration the more conservative voices of the time, whose protests were drowned out by the sheer press of an overexuberant news media printing statements generated by an overly optimistic DNR. The Department's deliberate playing down of the ultimate end of these fish did nothing to enlighten the average midwestern sportsman's intelligence concerning the life cycle of the salmon.

It follows, when only the favorable side of a situation is viewed the trend is to pursue only that exposed line of logic. "The Complete Salmon Story," as written by Dr. Wayne Tody, Chief Fishery Biologist, Michigan Department of Natural Resources; printed in the 1969 issue of the "Annual Midwest Fishing Guide," indicates this negative trend. While expressing the numerous virtues of the fish, the article is conveniently incomplete in that it fails to contain any mention of the problems created by dead salmon remaining in our State's relatively unspoiled northern waters.

The dilemma the salmon program presents to the average fisherman is not whether the fish should be stocked or not, but rather of the Department's seeming irresponsible haste to indiscriminately stock these fish wherever water flows into the lake. The blame for this rests not entirely on the shoulders of the Department, because as everyone is aware, considerable influence is generated by an area's chamber of commerce and various other business interests competing for the fisherman's dollar.

Considerably more research should be done however, to determine which streams should host the fish so as not to cause damage to an already excellent fishery in combination with the development of a definite pollution contribution. Many sportsmen believe the salmon should not be allowed to migrate up a given river past the nearest point to the river's mouth where they can successfully, and at the least cost, be removed from the stream. Many fishermen, including this one, also believe salmon may provide a contributing solution to the problems of our degenerating commercial fishing industry. Wouldn't this be a godsend to men faced with the financial loss of expensive, unused fishing equipment compounded by the loss of family revenue? Countless sports fishermen yet believe the commercial and sports fishing interests can work together without eliminating the major part of our Great Lakes commercial fishing fleet.

Commercial fishing on the Great Lakes is an intricate part of our Upper Peninsula heritage, and this heritage should be preserved even at the cost of detailing a DNR representative on every commercial boat that leaves port to insure the policing of just laws incorporated throughout the industry. For the DNR to arbitrarily prevent a man from following a profession that may have been in the family for generations is wrong.

Indeed, to challenge an individual's right to work is to challenge the very essence of his right to exist. Somehow a more equitable solution must certainly be found to absolve the problems encountered between the DNR, the commercial fishing industry, and sports fishing interests.

The overwhelmingly favorable response as indicated by the signed petitions being circulated to block the Whitefish River plant, signifies the sportsman's disapproval of the way in which the stocking program is being conducted. In one way or another these people are lending financial support to this program, and consequently the Department should give some consideration to what they have to say.

Let's not allow the DNR to Opening lead — king of diamonds.

This remarkable hand occurred in the 1961 Trials. It was first of all highly unusual because, at every one of the eight tables where the deal was played, a contract of four hearts was reached — even though declarer had four high-card tricks to lose—and second because all eight declarers succeeded in making the contract!

The bidding went as shown at the table where Charles Coon and Eric Murray—who eventually finished first in the 16-pair field — were North-South.

West led the king of diamonds and Murray took the ace and returned a trump. West rose with the ace and was now faced with the same defensive problem that arose at each of the other tables.

The only way for West to defeat the contract at this point was to cash the queen of diamonds and shift to a club. Not one West player found this defense! They were all reluctant to cash the queen and establish dummy's jack, so they shifted to either a spade or a club (except in one case).

West's failure to cash the diamond proved fatal because declarer later deposited his diamond loser on dummy's ten of clubs. The only tricks these declarers lost were a heart and two clubs.

The defenders had an even more frustrating experience at Murray's table. West realized that East had a singleton diamond because East had played the six on the king of diamonds and would have played the eight had he held the doubleton 8-6.

So, rather than set up dummy's jack by cashing the queen, West led a low diamond at trick three for East to ruff. East could not oblige, since he had no more trumps, so Murray made four hearts.

completely ignore their request as they have the thousands of signatures rallied against the antlerless deer program. Perhaps it's possible a compromise can be worked out favorable for all parties concerned.

PROTECT TROUT

I read with astonishment the disclosure that the Department of Natural Resources plans to plant coho salmon on the east and west branches of the Whitefish River.

Before this plant is allowed, I suggest that the Department provide us with statistics relating to the survival of the brook trout in the Haymeadow Creek. The brook trout and the coho salmon spawn in the fall of the year. If the two species use the same spawning bed, I raise the question as to whether or not, within a short period of time, we will have any brook trout left on these river systems.

I am given to understand that the Department would anticipate placing weirs across the river to prohibit the salmon from migrating up the river in the fall. If they are as successful with the weirs as they were at the mouth of the Haymeadow Creek, then they may as well not bother.

It is my considered opinion that an adequate period of time has not yet elapsed to evaluate the relationship between the species.

I believe this to be an ill-considered, ill-conceived plan on the part of the Department of Natural Resources. The Whitefish River system is one of the finest trout streams in the entire area and should be preserved as such.

I ask the fishermen of this area to enlist with me and others in a campaign to put a stop to this program, at least, until we are absolutely certain that no harm will come to this trout fishery.

Parents Show Son Two Can Play Game

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I were amused by the letter from the mother whose college son announced he was bringing a girl home for the weekend. The boy said it would be very honest and mature of his parents if they would allow him and his girl to occupy his bedroom at home since "we are shackled up here at school."

Our son, Bill, asked us the same question just before the Christmas holidays. Here is how we handled it:

My husband and I were stunned at Bill's request but we tried not to show it. We told him we'd talk it over and let him know. We hit on a plan, enlisted the cooperation of a neighbor couple and called Bill back. His father said, "Bring the girl. We'll do our best to adjust to the 'new morality.'"

We met Bill and his girl at the airport. She was wearing a long sweater, no skirt, sandals, beads and she was carrying a guitar. Our son looked just like her. When we drove up to our place her only comment was, "Some setup."

We had invited the next-door neighbors (I'll call them Ted and Alice) to dinner and the six of us got along well. After dinner my husband took Bill aside and said, "I'll see you in the morning. I'm going next door to sleep with Alice. Ted is sleeping here with your mother." Bill said, "I beg your pardon, will you repeat that?" My husband repeated the statement. Bill grabbed him and said, "Dad, you don't mean it. Why that's terrible—you can't do such a thing right in our own house." My husband asked in all innocence, "Why not—it's the way the world is going, isn't it?" Bill replied, "But you and Mom are decent, respectable people. That stuff isn't for you!"

My husband countered with, "You're a decent person aren't you? Why is it OK..." Bill cut in, "I get the idea, Dad—Jane sleeps at Aunt Ruth's tonight."

Not another word was said. Jane did sleep at Aunt Ruth's. At breakfast the following morning Bill gave us some odd looks. I'm sure he figured the whole thing out during the night.

If you want to print this letter you have our permission. Sign it—Short Course in Short Hills, N. J.

Dear Short Course: Thanks for a day brightener. It's a honey.

Dear Ann Landers: It happened again last night and I am furious. Every time I go to a luncheon or a cocktail party, some well meaning female pulls me aside, grabs the hem of my dress, and folds it under three or four inches to show how much "better" I would look if I wore my skirt shorter.

Flying Advertising Seen 'Sprouting Wings' Soon

BY JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — It is unlikely that you will be able to name this product but you may try. This is how it is advertised: "Nervousness, anxiety and minor vascular headaches may ease up. Digestion may get better. Skin disorders may improve."
Sounds like a tranquilizer, but it isn't. Here's more:
"Even more serious conditions like high blood pressure, heart palpitations, chronic constipation, colitis or peptic ulcers may take a temporary turn for the better."

A patent medicine, you say? But obviously a medicine making such claims would run afoul of the regulatory officials.

Perhaps some more clues will help, although it is unlikely. It helps marriages, for example. And it may help the children get higher marks. It is even suggested that it can make you healthier, wealthier and wiser; and certainly more impressive.

By now, perhaps, you are ready to buy at any price. But where?

All this, it is claimed, may be purchased at your airline ticket counter. The product is travel, especially by air. And all the aforementioned claims are made in the first installment of a big ad campaign by six airlines and a manufacturer of airplanes.

The campaign was three years in the making, will last two years, cost $2.85 million, total 70 million pages, involve seven of the largest ad agencies. Nevertheless, the entire effort will run in one magazine, Reader's Digest.

It was the Digest, naturally, which announced the campaign to an audience of hundreds gathered in the Wing's Club, American, Braniff, Eastern, Pan American, Trans World, United and Boeing attended.

The announcement stated that the airlines and the manufacturer "have joined forces in an industry wide effort to promote flying for pleasure, with particular emphasis on people who have never flown before."

"Sixty per cent of the adult population—spanning all income and educational levels—falls into this category," the announcement said.

The claims made for travel carry the endorsements of doctors, a psychologist, personnel managers, marriage counselors, a teacher, headmaster, guidance counselor, college admissions director, medical school professor.

The campaign will be designed to make the unfamiliar more familiar, he continued. "Approach, wording and 'look' of the program will be comforting, encouraging, familiar," rather than mod or impressive. It will be informational.

Object of the campaign is to take the nonflier gently into the world of flight step by step, anticipating his questions, citing the intrinsic advantages of travel, suggesting the new way of life it might make possible.

A Digest spokesman stated confidentially that he was certain the campaign would fill up a lot of empty seats.

And in so doing mend marriages, get Grandma to take her first flight, boost students' marks, help executives win promotions, and help the airlines pay for those big jets.

Downstate Jail Fence Needed To Keep People Out!

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A proposal to erect a eight-foot-high chain link fence around the Washtenaw County Jail and parking lot has received tentative approval from county officials. The board of supervisors is expected to put its final stamp of approval on the $3,700 project Tuesday. Sheriff Douglas Harvey said the protection is needed in the face of numerous bomb threats directed at his department recently.

Migrants To Get Emergency Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has announced a $150,000 grant to a group in Mount Pleasant, Mich., for emergency food assistance for Michigan's migrant workers.

The OEO said the money is earmarked for the purchase of food or food stamps for migrants who are unable to receive emergency food due to residency or other requirements.

It also is to be used to inform the workers of commodity distribution and food programs to expedite logistic and language difficulties encountered in the distribution of commodities and purchase of food stamps; and to refer health problems, resulting from inadequate food, to available medical assistance.

The grant was awarded to the United Migrants for Opportunity, Inc., of Mount Pleasant.

Addict Treatment Clinics To Open

DETROIT (AP) — The city of Detroit opened four addiction treatment clinics with a capacity of 500 patients today.

The clinics dispense methadone, a drug which satisfies the narcotics addict's craving for opiates such as heroin, morphine or opium. Methadone, however, itself is addictive although it is less debilitating than the opiates.

The controversial drug will be dispensed without charges.

The largest of the clinics—with a capacity of 350 patients—will be at Herman Kiefer Hospital. The other clinics, with capacities of 50 each, will be located at Detroit General Hospital downtown and on the East and West Sides.

Treatment will be on an outpatient basis.

Hearing Set

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing March 24 at Lansing on a proposal of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad request to discontinue two night trains between Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids. The hearing originally was scheduled for Feb. 23.

WLUC Gets OK For Translator In Copper Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission announced recently approval of a Michigan broadcast application.

Lower Pewabic, Mich. — WLUC, Inc., granted permit for new VHF television translator station to serve Calumet, Mich., operating on Channel 5 by re-broadcasting programs of WLUC-TV, Channel 6, Marquette, Mich.

Arson Suspected In Detroit Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — Arson is suspected in a fire which caused an estimated $200,000 damage to the student bookstore at the University of Detroit Sunday.

The fire was discovered early Sunday morning by a security guard. It was extinguished within an hour, but smoke and water caused extensive damage to books and supplies.

Richard Kawelsky, a security officer for the school, said the fire was set in three separate locations in the store and in a wastebasket outside. He said a flammable liquid, probably spray lacquer, was used to start the blaze.

Lt. Robert McClary of the Detroit arson squad did not say the fire was deliberately set but said it "appears to be of other than accidental origin."

An unrelated and apparently accidental fire caused an estimated $30,000 to $40,000 damage at the Wayne State University bookstore early Saturday.

Bar Owner Shot

DETROIT (AP) — A bar owner on Detroit's West Side was shot and critically wounded Saturday night by a man who witnesses said had been ejected from the tavern a short time before. Police said the wounded man, Eugene Kesik, 46, was shot in the chest. A suspect was arrested shortly after the shooting, and was held for questioning.

Irish Dinner To Be Served At Rapid River

There will be a special St. Patrick's Day celebration in Rapid River this year. The Women's Fellowship of the Rapid River Congregational Church will serve an Irishman's Dinner Tuesday, March 17 in the church parish hall at Rapid River. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue to 7:30 p.m.

Irish stew, Irish bread and rolls, shillalah salad will make up the special holiday menu. The dinner is open to the public with pre-school children admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Dinner chairman is Mrs. Don Waters, assisted by Mrs. Bob Olson, Mrs. Charles Hazard, Mrs. Gerry Manville and Mrs. Tom Safford.

Alter Burger Flavor With Spanish Sauce

Spice up that American favorite, the hamburger, with a taste of Spain. Popular beef patties are cosmopolitan and adapt well to any ethnic variation.

Meat expert, Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests topping broiled beefburgers with sliced onions, in a blend of catsup and chili sauce flavored with parsley and oregano.

Espanola Burgers
1½ pounds ground beef
Salt
Pepper
6 hamburger buns
Shape ground beef into 6 patties. Place patties on broiler pan 2 inches from heat. Broil patties on one side until brown, about 8 to 10 minutes. Season. Turn and brown about 5 to 10 minutes longer, to desired degree of doneness. Season. Place on hamburger buns and serve Espanola Sauce over the meat. 6 servings.

Espanola Sauce
3 medium onions, sliced
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup catsup
½ cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ teaspoon oregano
Cook onions in lard or drippings until tender and transparent. Add catsup, chili sauce, parsley and oregano. Heat through. Serve over broiled patties. Yield: 1½ cups.

Former Escanaba Resident Top Art Exhibitor

A former Escanaba resident, Mrs. Louise A. Alek Roitsch, of McAllen, Texas, was among the top exhibitors at the Upper Valley Art League Show held recently at the McAllen Civic Center.

Mrs. Roitsch, a tax computer for Robert Lyon, Hidalgo County tax assessor, began painting four years ago as a hobby and turned to commercial painting two years ago.

A prolific artist, Mrs. Roitsch has sold some 250 of her paintings in the past four years and plans to become a full-time artist when she retires from her job in two years.

Her credits include: being named Artist of the Month by the Patrons of Art; won honorable mention for one of her works in the 1969 Mission Fiesta Art Show and won sweepstakes in pastel seascape and second prize in pastel landscape in this year's Fiesta Art Show.

She has also exhibited at the Zonta Art Show in San Antonio, the Upper Valley Art League Shows, the International Art Show and the Harlingen Art Forum Christmas Show.

Mrs. Roitsch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Alek, former longtime residents of Escanaba and is the sister of Mrs. Francis Gray, 601 S. 16th St.

Mrs. William H. Van

Mary Ann Duschene, William H. Van Wed

St. Joseph's Church in Oconto, Wis., was the setting for the February ceremony uniting in marriage Mary Ann Duschene and William H. Van of Green Bay.

The Rev. Roger Stodola officiated at the nuptials at 2 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duschene, 269 Ontario Ave., Oconto and the granddaughter of Mrs. Joseph Duschene of Garden. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Van of Green Bay.

Reception
A supper and reception was held in the church parish hall following the wedding and was hosted by the bride's parents.

Satin Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin fashioned with a wedding ring collar, A-line skirt and bishop's sleeves. Venice lace edged the collar, sleeves, and chapel train. A circular lace headpiece held her bouffant illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and starburst pompons centered with a white orchid.

Home In Green Bay
After a honeymoon trip to Florida, the newlyweds are now at home at 208-A Alvina St., Green Bay. The bride is a 1966 graduate of Oconto High School and is employed by the Green Bay City Welfare Dept. Mr. Van is a 1967 graduate of Green Bay West High School and is employed as a construction worker for the Howard Immel Co. of Green Bay.

Michigan guests included: Mrs. Joe Duschene, Mr. and Mrs. James Duschene, Mary Strohm, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Rivard, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dufour, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jaynes, Mrs. Ernest Tatrow and Mrs. Roy Ranguette.

Program Tonight At Holy Name

"The Church of Vatican II and the Laity" is the topic on which Sister Michael Mary of St. Joseph Parish will speak tonight at 7:30 at Holy Name High School.

This is the fifth in a series of six talks being presented as an Adult Education Course by the Sisters of the Escanaba area. There is no fee and the public is invited.

The final talk will be given on March 23 by Sister Catherine William of St. Patrick Parish and Sister Michael Mary. Their topic then will be "The New Morality."

Provide Dining Adventure With Tasty Beef Dish

Anyone who enjoys trying new food and flavor combos is apt to be intrigued with the recipe for Deviled Kidneys with Rice. The tangy sauce for the kidneys is made with mustard, paprika, salt, lemon juice and celery salt.

This unusual entree will please both modern gourmets and old-fashioned grandmothers, says Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Deviled Kidneys with Rice provide a tasty treat for lunch or supper.

Deviled Kidneys with Rice
2 pounds beef kidneys (2 kidneys)
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 bouillon cube
1 cup boiling water
4 cups hot, cooked rice

Wash kidneys and split in halves lengthwise. Remove the skin, white tubes and fat and wash again. Cut each half into 6 pieces. Cover with cold water, add 1 teaspoon salt and soak 1½ hours. Drain. Melt butter and add remaining ½ teaspoons salt, mustard, paprika, lemon juice and celery salt. Roll pieces of kidneys in butter mixture and then in flour. Lightly brown in hot lard or drippings. Dissolve the bouillon cube in hot water and pour over kidneys. Cover and simmer 30 to 45 minutes or until tender. Serve on rice. 6 servings.

Births

COLUCCIO — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coluccio of Rte. 1, Escanaba are the parents of a daughter, Ann Renee, born at 1:19 p.m. on March 14. The infant weighed 6 pounds and 4 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Joanne Wainio.

MANNEBACH — At 9:12 p.m. on March 14, a daughter, Sherry Lynn, weighing 8 pounds and 5 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mannebach of 320 N. 11th St. Mrs. Mannebach was Marlene Lemeland.

PEACOCK — A son, Rodrick James, weighing 6 pounds and 14 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Milo Peacock, 608 S. 19th St. at 9:39 a.m. on March 15. The mother is the former Connie Couillard.

MONTGOMERY — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Montgomery of Rte. 1, Escanaba welcomed their first child, a daughter, at 10:31 a.m. on March 15. The infant weighed 5 pounds and 11 ounces at birth and has been named Holly Nicole. Mrs. Montgomery was Kris Johnson.

The Irish are still in first place, consuming more sugar per capita than any other nation: an annual 127 pounds by 1969 estimates. That figures about 28 pounds more, per head count, than is used in the United States. Ninety-nine pounds per capita puts us in seventh place in individual sugar consumption.

Venice, Italy, constantly threatened by water and humidity, has suffered almost 60 floods in the past half-century.

Jobless Pay Hike On State Agenda

LANSING (AP) — New education reform bills and final resolution of a partisan squabble over proprietorship of a bill to increase unemployment compensation face the Michigan Legislature this week.

For the first time in months, neither chamber may be tied up in debate over next year's state School Aid Bill.

Increased to $1.22-billion by House addition of some $247 million, the 1970-71 bill, including a $22 million parochial section, faces further review by the Senate. Little action seems to be in store, however, until the House holds more debate on a companion bill to raise some $400 million through an increase in the state income tax.

Both bills are substitutes for the spending and taxing proposals that Gov. William Milliken included in his education reform package, and neither has his support. The Senate is expected to reject recent House increases, thus throwing the bill into a joint conference.

Treatment That Arrests Form Of Cancer Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new four-drug combination treatment that arrests—at least temporarily—the cancer-like Hodgkins disease has been reported by the National Cancer Institute.

The multiple-drug treatment has been under study since 1964 and has prolonged the life of some victims the entire six years. Sixty-three per cent of the 43 patients that entered treatment at various times during the period survived four years.

Hodgkins disease, of unknown origin, is a cancer of the lymph nodes, spleen and liver which kills approximately 3,300 Americans per year. It strikes some 15,000 annually. Most of the victims are in their 20s.

Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod of the NCI Friday identified the newest of the four drugs used in the "shotgun" treatment as procarbazine hydrochloride. It was developed by the Hoffman-La Roche Co. of Nutley, N.J., and is derived in part from hydrazine, a rocket fuel.

U.S. Guppy Subs Given To Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has approved a loan of three conventional powered submarines to Nationalist China—a move that some see as a threat to any future improvement in U.S.-mainland China relations.

The action, disclosed recently came in a closed meeting of Rep. L. Mendel Rivers' panel Feb. 3 and will be voted on by the full House Wednesday.

The Guppy class craft, ostensibly for Formosa's antisubmarine warfare program, would be that country's first submarines.

The Defense and State departments have not taken a public position on the bill although privately officials are said to fear the loan will hamper Nixon administration efforts to improve U.S.-Red China relations.

Dehydrated potatoes sustained people in the Andes long before the first European had even tasted the tubers. Potatoes were preserved by repeatedly squeezing out the water and exposing them to sun and frost.

Deputies Using Aikido To Keep Convicts In Line

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — By putting the finger on criminals with aikido, sheriff's deputies hope to keep their prisoners in hand.

"Aikido develops also positive thinking," they were told by Koichi Tohei of Tokyo's aikido headquarters.

Then, with a flip of a finger, he flipped sheriff's officers Ben Sekishiro and John Damian at the same time Friday.

The 50-year-old Japanese holder of a 10th-degree black belt in aikido is conducting classes for deputies.

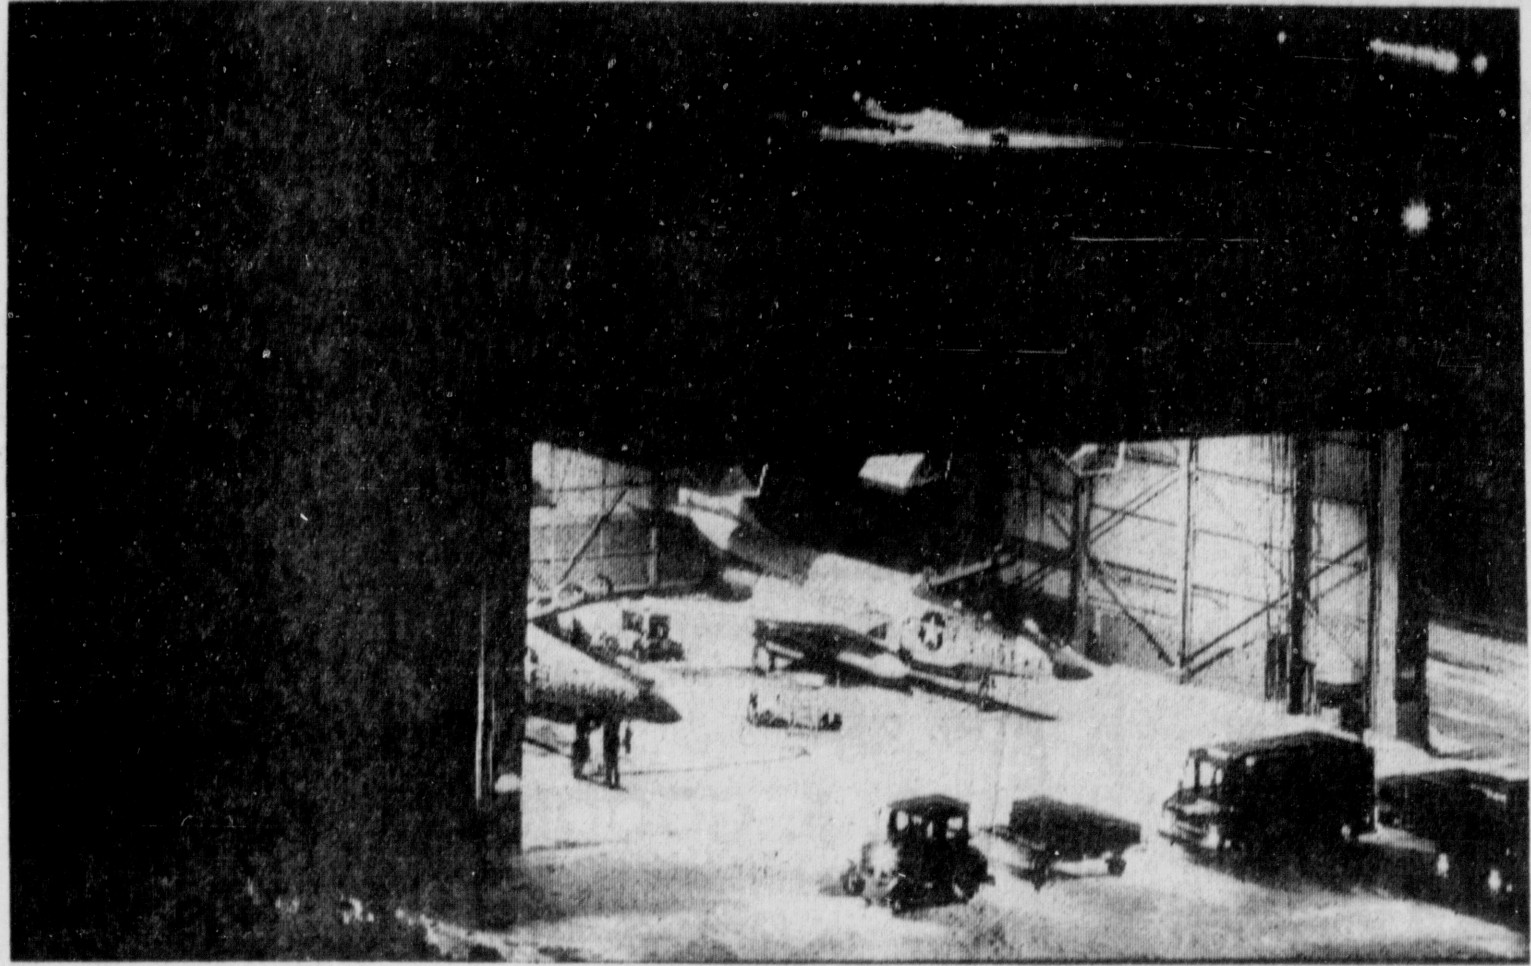

Aikido is a nonaggressive art of self-defense mainly employing the use of wrist twists. Sheriff Joe O'Connor said he wants his men to learn it for prisoner control.

Escape Baffling To Hawaii Police

OLINDA, Maui, Hawaii (AP) — After three prisoners at the Olinda honor camp overpowered and tied up a guard, another inmate drove them to the airport to catch a plane for Honolulu.

Then he drove back to the camp and returned to his room. Maui Police Commissioner Andrew Freitas studied the report and demanded a full investigation.

"What are they running over there?" he asked. "A hotel?"

Kelley Backing Rights To Sue Over Pollution

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley favors passage of pending legislation that would allow private citizens to sue companies and agencies for alleged pollution.

Kelley clarified his views on the bills, now pending in both House and Senate committees, in a letter to Doug Scott, cochairman of ENACT steering committee at the University of Michigan.

The attorney general declined an invitation to attend a workshop on the bill today, saying a prior commitment kept him in another part of the state.

"However," he said, "I would appreciate your putting the record straight on my views."

Kelley said there had been some misunderstanding regarding his stand on the measure, partially because of an erroneous bill analysis that came from his office nearly one year ago.

"I have personally always supported this type of legislation and continue to do so," the attorney general said.

Snomo Film

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police report they have a new, 15 minute color film available to teach snowmobile safety operation. The film was shot in Northern Michigan's snow country and is available upon request.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Winter Campout At Pioneer Trail

ler, Mike Marenger, Dan Livermore, Jim Kroll, Bob Courchaine, Todd Holland, Steven Grenholm, John DeMay, and Don Bunch.

Story, Pictures By Lou Freeman

Pioneer Trail Park came alive this weekend as the Escanaba Boy Scout Troop 444 invaded the wilderness on a two day over-night campout.

Eighteen youngsters took part in the outing, under the supervision of Dave Livermore, scoutmaster, and two assistants, Fred Engdahl, and Larry Beltrame.

The campout previously had been scheduled last month, but due to sub-zero weather was postponed. This weekend, the cold weather did not slow down the enthusiastic scouts.

Assistant Fred Engdahl said when he awoke Saturday morning he had to stand in the sun in an effort to warm up, and as he stood there shivering one of the scouts approached him saying, "Geez, ain't this fun."

The cold weather was a big factor, however, as one of the main functions of the outing was to teach the scouts the methods of winter survival, including cooking, tracking, tree and shrubbery identification, hiking techniques and how to build a shelter.

The outing started Friday afternoon, and continued until Sunday morning, giving them two nights to camp out.

Livermore and assistants took turns during the night, checking the tents once every hour. The tents and camping equipment were purchased with the help of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club. The scouts, through various projects, raised half of the money, and that amount was matched by the Kiwanis Club, a sum of over $400.

Livermore seemed to be enjoying every minute of the outing.

"You don't have to be crazy, but it helps," he joked.

"Get those hats on" Livermore grinned during one of the group pictures. "I don't want any mothers calling me about their son's head being cold."

Livermore said that anyone interested in joining the troop, as well as any adults interested in supervision, could contact him at ST 6-3778.

All-in-all the campout was quite successful, despite the cold weather.

There's something about a can of beans warming over an open fire, boys working together, learning, laughing, and enjoying themselves, that is unmatched in other experiences.

THE SHELTER is completed. Jim Ryde builds a fire in front of the foil covered deflector in preparation for his night's sleep. The deflector is used to direct the heat into the shelter.

Narcotic Warnings Appear In Schools

DETROIT (AP) — "If you need a fix, you're in one." "Watch your step. Don't trip." "Don't let your life go to pot." The slogans of a police or city agency trying to keep kids away from drugs.

No. This advice comes from high school students themselves. The words and graphic illustrations that accompanied them are on posters designed by students at Detroit's Cody High School and sponsored by the Warrendale Kiwanis Club.

The idea was George Donaldson's, principal of the school and a Kiwanian.

"The students hear all the time about the bad effects of drugs from adults. I thought this would give them a chance to communicate with each other," Donaldson said.

He mentioned his idea at a Kiwanis Club meeting and then set things in motion with the school's art instructor, Edward Anthony.

Anthony, a member of the board of the Institute for Research of Art in Education of New York University and the Museum of Modern Art in New York, gave his commercial art students a choice of assignments—posters on travel, Christmas or drugs. Twenty of his 27 students selected the drug theme.

"Ideas came right to them and they started work immediately. I think they felt the theme was important to them," he observes.

The completed pictures were judged by a committee of parents, other students and teachers and the winners received trophies and small cash prizes at a special school assembly.

The Kiwanis is paying to have the winning poster — a tempera depicting the silhouette of a man clinging to a barb wire electric fence and the words "Drugs leave no escape" by 15-year-old Barbara Igielski — reproduced and distributed to Detroit area high schools and businesses.

"I just wanted to draw what I felt," she said.

Untended gravestones and the word "Escape" won Debbie Thomas, 18, second place, and the warning "Don't make the wrong move" accompanied by a chess board with skulls crowning the chessmen brought third place to 16-year-old Cheryl Flowerday.

All the posters will be displayed at a large roller-skating rink near the school.

Donaldson says that predominantly middle-class Cody, located 10 miles from Detroit's "inner city," has "a relatively small" drug problem and calls the poster contest "a preventative, positive program for the students themselves," a "peer operation."

And the interest the posters sparked among students has given Donaldson other ideas.

"We might work out something with the music department. The students could compose musical themes on the problem and it might be a good idea to have them write essays or short plays in cooperation with the English department."

Highway 'Battle' Injures Couple In Three-Car Crash

A Bark River Rte. 1 couple, Douglas W. Meunier, 71, and Antoinette Meunier, 65, were injured when their car was struck by cars that had been engaged in a running "battle" at speeds up to 120 miles an hour.

The car in which the Meuniers were riding rolled over three times and came to rest on its top in the 2600 block of Lake Shore Drive at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Meunier suffered a cut over his left eye, was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released; and Mrs. Meunier was taken to the hospital for treatment of a back injury.

The drivers of the two other cars, charged with reckless driving, are Thomas L. Petersen, 24, of Milwaukee, and John W. Gucky, 20, of Escanaba Rte. 1.

Gucky told officers he had been pursued by Petersen from Pensaukee, Wis., a distance of 80 miles, sometimes at speeds up to 120 miles an hour, and that Petersen sought to halt him on the highway after an incident in Green Bay.

In District Court today Gucky denied the reckless driving charge, is to obtain legal counsel, and is at liberty on his personal recognizance.

Chamber Group Studies Airport

The Aviation Committee of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce, John Anthony, chairman, toured the municipal airport and terminal building to study problems and acquaint itself with the total operation of the terminal building as it pertains to the movement of both passengers, luggage and air freight.

North Central Airlines representative Peter Zimmer explained what is necessary in modern operation of airlines and airport facilities. He said that an airport must be set up in the future to handle jet planes in order to make it profitable. He further stated that turbo-prop are becoming obsolete.

Zimmer demonstrated the rapidity with which passage can be requested and confirmed and the various methods that are used in the computer operations to locate reservations not specifically known by the ticket holder.

One of the problems in airline operation, Zimmer stated, was the ticket change occurring within a half hour of flight time which causes the reservation clerk some difficulty in handling both the reservation end and the flight change. He recommended that it would assist the airline if the ticket holder would make his flight connection changes prior to the day of his flight if possible to expedite the movement of traffic.

Drug Epidemic Major Problem In U.S. Today

donacists and psychiatrists are donating their time to the Cincinnati Free Clinic, which opened last month and which includes a "come-down room." Joan Adler, a senior at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine said the room is for people who are "crashing," or suffering drug depression.

Drug Instruction

—The Madison, Wis., public school system is preparing drug instruction for grades 4, 6, 9, 11 and 12. In grade 4, Miss Peggy Chapman explained, the program will deal "with the concept of drugs as mood modifiers." Hard drugs won't be discussed until the 6th grade, unless the subject arises.

—Last fall, the Los Angeles City Unified School district moved a required health course that includes drug information back a year from grade 8 to 7. Next fall, a senior health course will be moved from grade 11 to 10. On the elementary level drug education is being taught to 5th and 6th graders.

Slogans Created

—Detroit's Cody High School students have created slogans and posters on drugs, including the "Watch your step. Don't trip" admonition. Trip is a term for getting high on drugs. George Donaldson, Cody principal and a member of the Kiwanis club sponsoring the art contest, said: "The students hear all the time about the bad effects of drugs from adults. I thought this would give them a chance to communicate with each other." Edward Anthony, the school's art instructor, gave his 27 commercial art students a choice of assignments — posters and travel, Christmas or drugs. Twenty of them chose the drug theme.

Examples such as these exist throughout the nation in the growing awareness of the extent of a problem once thought to be confined to the poor, the slums, the blacks.

Drug Abuse Programs

In New Mexico schools, several drug abuse programs were started in response to the death last October of Diane Linkletter, 20-year-old daughter of entertainer Art Linkletter, after using LSD. In Portales, N. M., a junior high school class got 900 students to sign pledges they wouldn't experiment with or use drugs. Each student mailed a pledge to a relative or friend in another state. They said they got answers from 80 cities in 40 states.

Some New York officials cite another catalyst: That drug abuse is now a problem of the white middle class.

A top aide to Mayor John V. Lindsay said: "As long as drugs were primarily a problem of the lower classes, there was a minimum of pressures for society to do any more than research the problem."

Increased Use Noted

Within the last six months, increased use of heroin has become evident in high schools and junior high schools in New York's more affluent neighborhoods, in Westchester County, on Long Island.

Some schools in the metropolitan area are giving teachers and parents "sensitivity training," using group sessions to make the adults more aware of themselves and open them up to the insecurities that adolescents often feel. The idea is that a teen-ager will communicate more readily with a sensitized person.

Addicts Get Lecture

In another approach, Chicago narcotics detective Bernard Brown has taken former addicts to lecture to young people about drug abuse. "The kids," Brown said, "come right out and tell you they didn't understand the problems and appreciate learning what drugs will do to them."

For parents who want a chemical analysis of suspected drugs they have found, Detroit police offer "analysis anonymous." "The parents may have the analysis done without identifying themselves. The Alachua County sheriff's office in Gainesville, Fla., operates a similar service. At Granada Hills High School, about 28 miles from central Los Angeles, Mike Godfrey has set up files of materials "just to try and keep up with the kids."

"There just doesn't seem to be any way we can know more about it than the kids. Where do they learn it? They just learn it; it is the 'in' thing. I wish we could find some way to make not using drugs the 'in' thing."

Massoglia Will Seek House Seat

Dominic J. Massoglia of Laurium has announced his candidacy for the office of representative from the 110th District.

Massoglia, a former Republican representative from the Copper Country, will oppose incumbent Russell Hellman of Dollar Bay for the post.

Hellman, a Democrat has held the post for several terms. Massoglia served as representative from 1954 to 1958.

Bomb Plotters Near 'Village' Scene, Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine says about 12 young radicals who planned to bomb buildings at Columbia University and elsewhere were in the Greenwich Village townhouse that recently exploded and burned to the ground.

So far, three bodies have been pulled from the wreckage.

The magazine said Sunday that explosives found in the debris were to be used in conjunction with a demonstration on the campus last Friday to pressure the university to raise bail for 12 of 13 Black Panthers indicted on ~~bomb and murder~~ conspiracy charges.

About 200 students were involved in smashing windows in four campus buildings Friday, following a 2-hour sit-in.

Newsweek said youths in the townhouse at the time of the dynamite explosion—March 6—had been drifting into New York for weeks from Boston, Chicago and other cities.

It said they were scattered around the $250,000 residence listening to rock music and smoking marijuana.

One of the victims has been identified as Theodore Gold, a leader of the 1968 student revolt at Columbia and an organizer of the university's Students for a Democratic Society.

The others, a man and a woman, have not been identified.

Holy Name Wins Class B Regional Crown

CLASS B CHAMPS — Coach Gordon LeDuc and the only three seniors on the Holy Name Crusader roster pose with the Class B regional championship trophy they won Saturday night by defeating the Menominee Maroons 53-48.

Upend Maroons In Title Clash Saturday Night

By MIKE UTT

MARQUETTE—An estimated crowd of 2,600 fans witnessed the end of one era and the possible beginning of another Saturday night when the Holy Name Crusaders whipped the Menominee Maroons by a 53-43 margin in the championship game of the Class B regional basketball tournament at Northern Michigan University's C.B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse.

Menominee had won three straight U.P. titles going into the game and had seven straight victories on the fieldhouse floor, while the Crusaders had not appeared in a regional tournament since 1962. Both teams had 15-4 records for the season and each had defeated the other once during the season by a five point margin, Holy Name winning the first game 53-48 and Menominee taking the second 54-49.

Holy Name, playing with just three seniors on its roster, finished regular season play with a 12-4 record. The Crusaders then scored 66-61 and 59-41 victories over Gladstone and Manistique respectively in the district tournament before upending Negaunee 68-46 in the regional opener.

Tough Defense

Once again, as it had done so many times during the regular season, Holy Name's defense arose to the occasion, making Menominee take hurried shots and dominating the boards with 43 rebounds to 33 for the Maroons.

Holy Name jumped out to a 7-2 lead in the first three minutes of the title game before Menominee got four straight field goals from Dan Jacques to take a 10-7 advantage with just over two minutes left in the period. The Crusaders regained the lead soon after on field goals by Steve Kleiman and Dan Young and extended their lead to 15-11 in the final minute of the period on field goals by Bill Skradski and Joe Harvey.

Lead By Eight

Neither team hit very well from the field in the first four minutes of the second quarter, but Skradski got the Crusaders off and running at that point with a 15-foot jumper. Gary Kleiman, who had replaced foul ridden Dan Young, followed with another field goal and Bob McGinn added a free throw to give Holy Name its first big lead of the night, 22-15. Menominee then closed the gap to four on a free throw by Jeff Jackel and a field goal by John Beauparlant, but Gary Kleiman came up with another field goal and two free throws to put Holy Name ahead 26-18 at halftime.

Two field goals by Steve Kleiman, who played his finest basketball of the season in the two regional tourney contests, and another by Joe Harvey put the Crusaders in front by a 32-20 margin in the first two and one half minutes of the period. The Maroons then got as close as they were going to get for the rest of the night when Jacques hit from 15-feet at the 5:19 mark. Holy Name then hit eight straight points for a 40-22 lead and remained out in front at the end of the quarter 44-30.

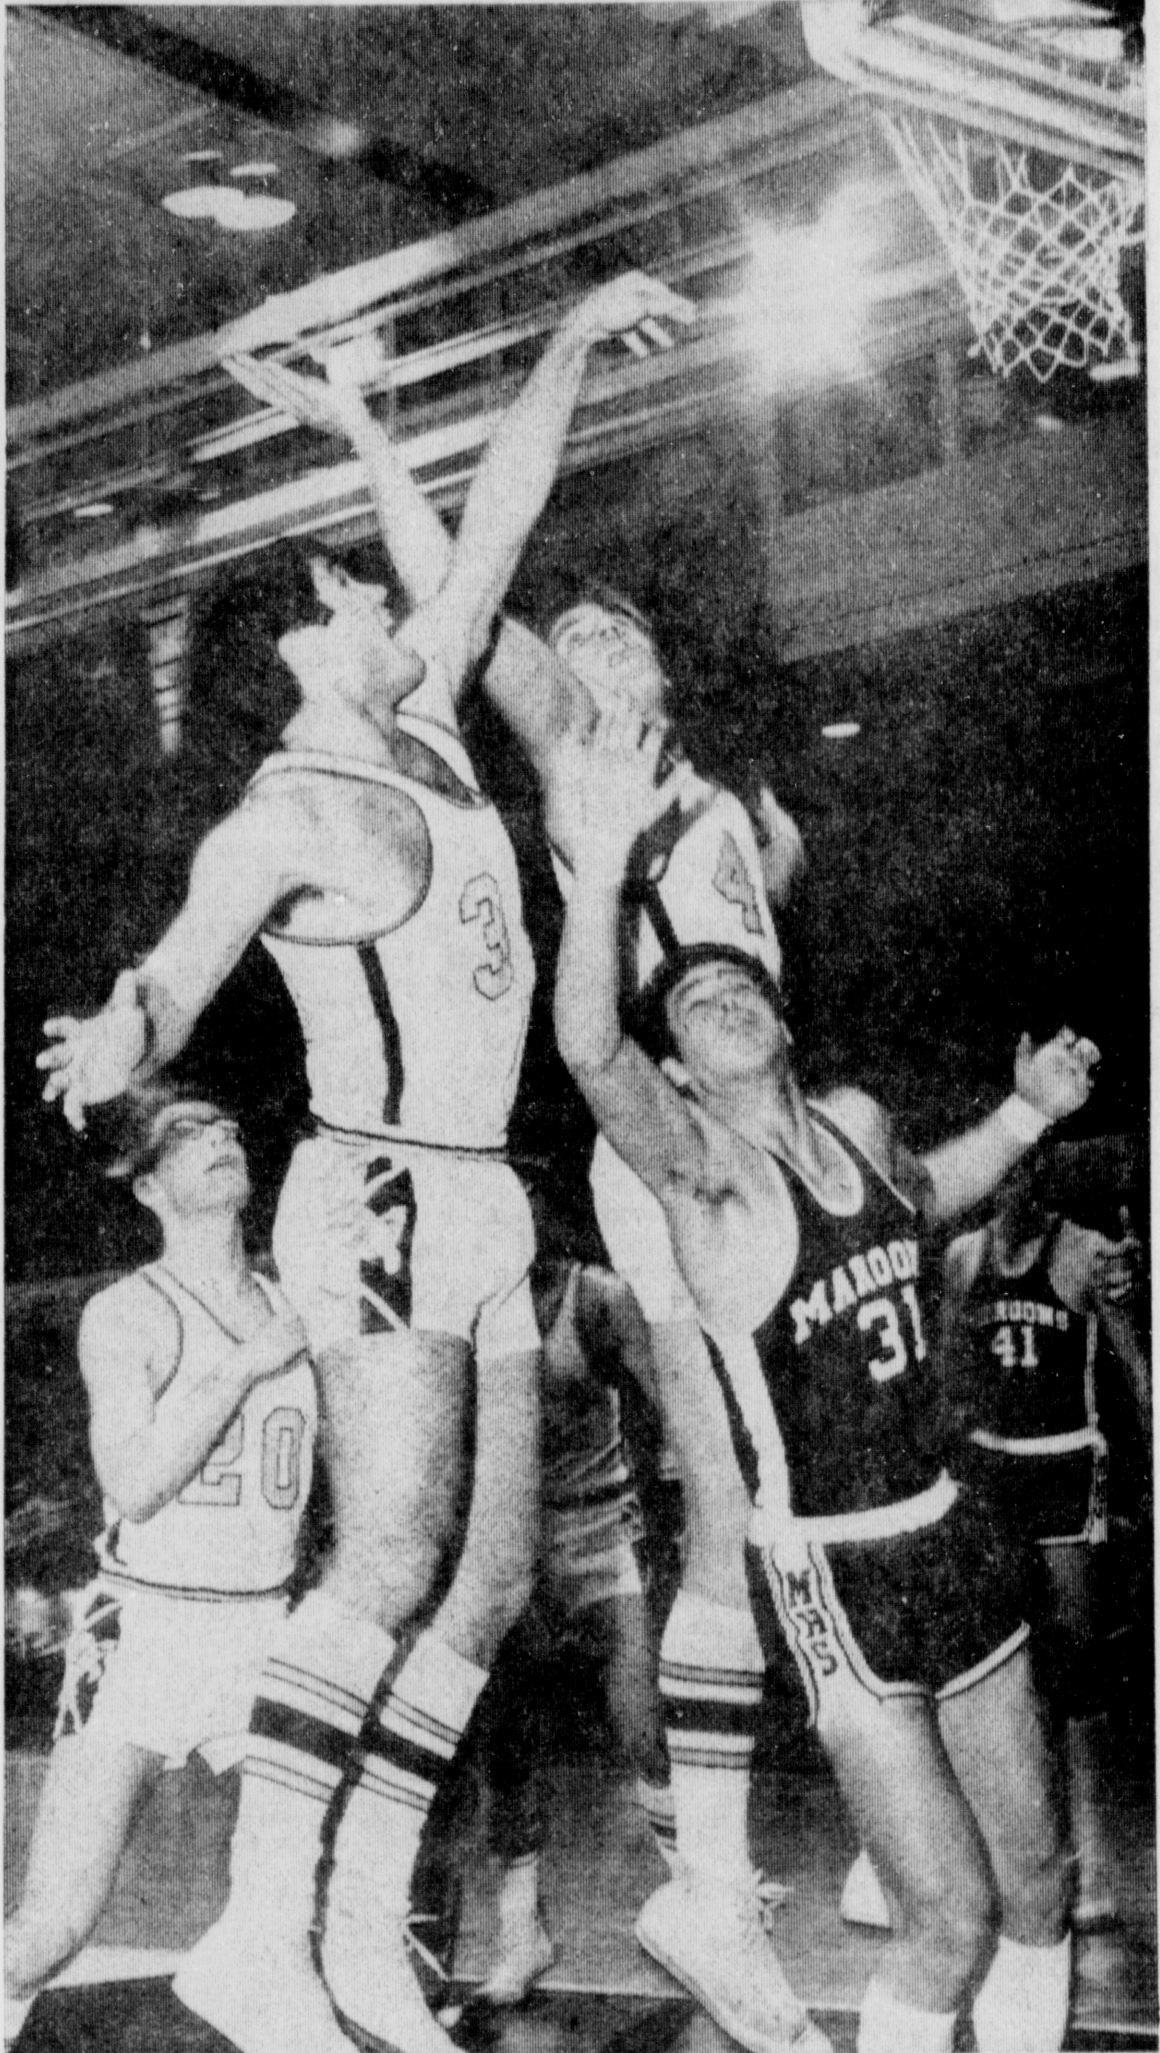

Wrap It Up

After Harvey and Steve Kleiman gave Holy Name a 47-30 advantage early in the final period, the defending champions got back to within 13 points twice, but were unable to get any closer and Holy Name wrapped up its first U.P. title in eight years.

Steve Kleiman led the Holy Name scoring parade with 22 points, while Skradski chipped in with 14 and Gary Kleiman 11. Jacques was the only Menominee player able to hit double figures, tossing in eight field goals for 16 points.

Holy Name made 19 of 57 field goal attempts in the game for 33 per cent and Menominee only came up with 15 field goals in 60 attempts for 25 per cent. Steve Kleiman and Harvey were the top rebounders in the contest with 15 and 13 respectively.

Coach Gordy LeDuc, who guided Marquette Bishop Baraga to the State Class D championship last year, will now take his squad into quarterfinal action Wednesday night Alpena High School beginning at 7:30 p.m.

DOMINATE BOARDS — Holy Name, controlled the boards in the Class B regional title game against Menominee Saturday night, pulling down 43 rebounds to the Maroon's 33. Saints, Cardinals Win Tourney Titles

MARQUETTE — The St. Ignace Saints and Wakefield Cardinals will join the Holy Name Crusaders as Upper Peninsula representatives in the quarterfinal rounds of the State Basketball Tournament, as both won titles in their respective classes Saturday in the regional tournament held at the C. B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse on the Northern Michigan University campus.

St. Ignace won the Class C crown over a stubborn Bessemer quint, 74-67, and Wakefield copped the Class D title with an 81-62 triumph over the surprising Eben Eagles.

St. Ignace trailed at the end of the first period in its game with Bessemer, 14-13, and came up to tie the score at halftime, 34-34. The Saints hit on 42 per cent of their shots in the first half, making 13 of 31 attempts, while Bessemer was 12 of 34 for 35 per cent. Leo Donovan kept the Saints in the contest with 21 points in the first two periods and Jim Partanen ripped the nets for 15 points for Bessemer.

The two teams battled close through the first four and one half minutes of the third period before St. Ignace finally went ahead for good at the 3:08 mark, 45-44. St. Ignace held Bessemer to just two points for the remainder of the period and took a 53-46 advantage into the final quarter.

St. Ignace kept its big margin throughout most of the final frame until Bessemer came within five points with 41 seconds left in the game, 69-64. Bessemer failed to get any closer from that point and the Saints wrapped up the title.

Donovan finished the game with 33 points and he got help from Jeff Savard with 14 points and Lynn Closs with 13. Partanen paced Bessemer with 26 points, while Jim Byrnes chipped in with 17 and Jim Juntunen helped out with 12.

Eben grabbed a 15-11 lead over Wakefield in the first six minutes of the Class D finale and wound up being tied with the Cardinals at the end of the period, 15-15. The Eagles cooled off in the second quarter and trailed by a 37-26 margin at the half.

The Eagles came roaring back in the third period and came within four points, 49-45, with 58 seconds left on the clock, but the Cardinals answered the challenge once again and took a 55-45 lead into the final quarter.

From then on the Cardinals' superior height advantage and great outside shooting wore Eben down and they had little trouble in the fourth quarter. Mike Schweig paced the Wakefield attack with 27 points, while Kim Tomczyk added 20 and Russ Maki and Dan Juntilla chipped in with 12 apiece. Leo Niemi, who played inspired ball all afternoon, led Eben with 20 points, while Dale Maki had 15 and Dale Ruska 10.

High Winds Halt Ski Jump Meet

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP) — High winds forced the postponement for the second day Sunday of the scheduled Pine Mountain International ski jumping tournament.

Meet officials said the winds, ranging from 20 to 25 miles an hour, made jumping too dangerous.

Another attempt will be held to hold the tournament next weekend, officials said. More than 50 jumpers, including several leading European competitors, had been expected to participate.

Three Crusaders Make Tourney Honor Roster

MARQUETTE—Sports writers and broadcasters covering the 1970 regional basketball tournament at Northern Michigan University's C. B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse selected three players from the Class B champion Holy Name Crusaders on the ten-man all-tourney Saints as the tourney's outstanding player.

Selected from the Holy Name squad were senior Steve Kleiman, Junior Joe Harvey and sophomore Bill Skradski, all of whom played key roles in the Crusaders' two regional tourney victories.

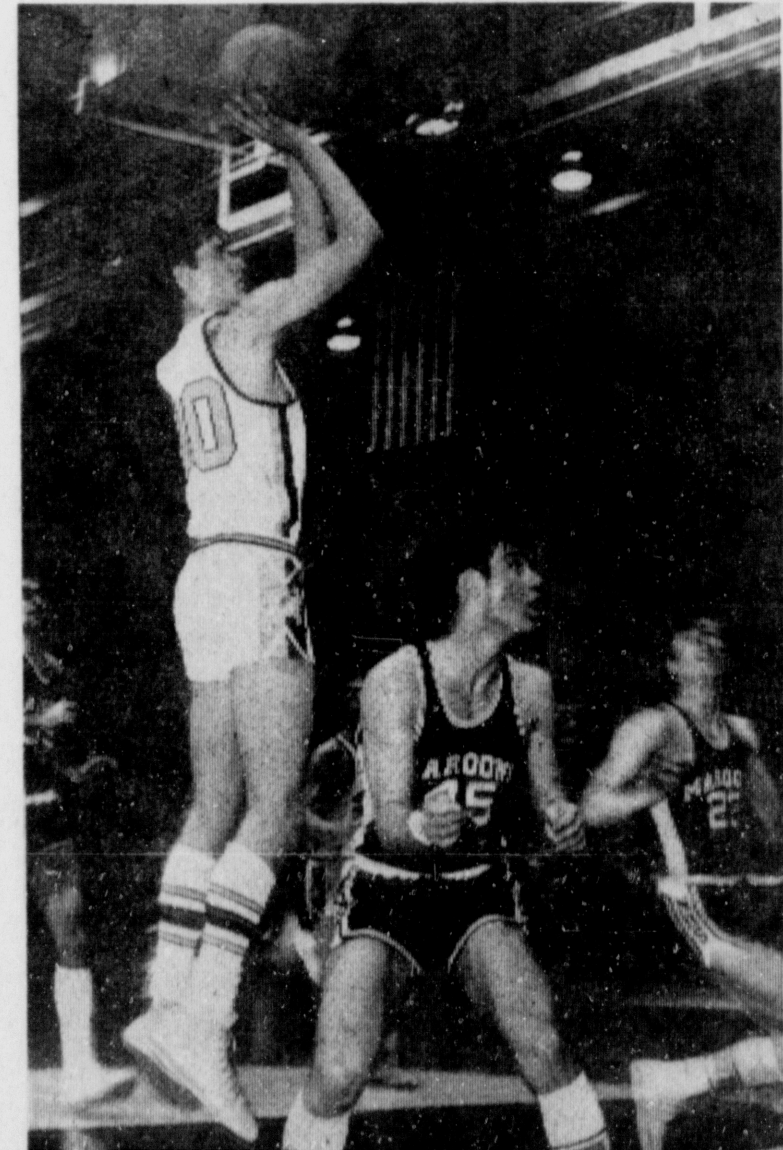

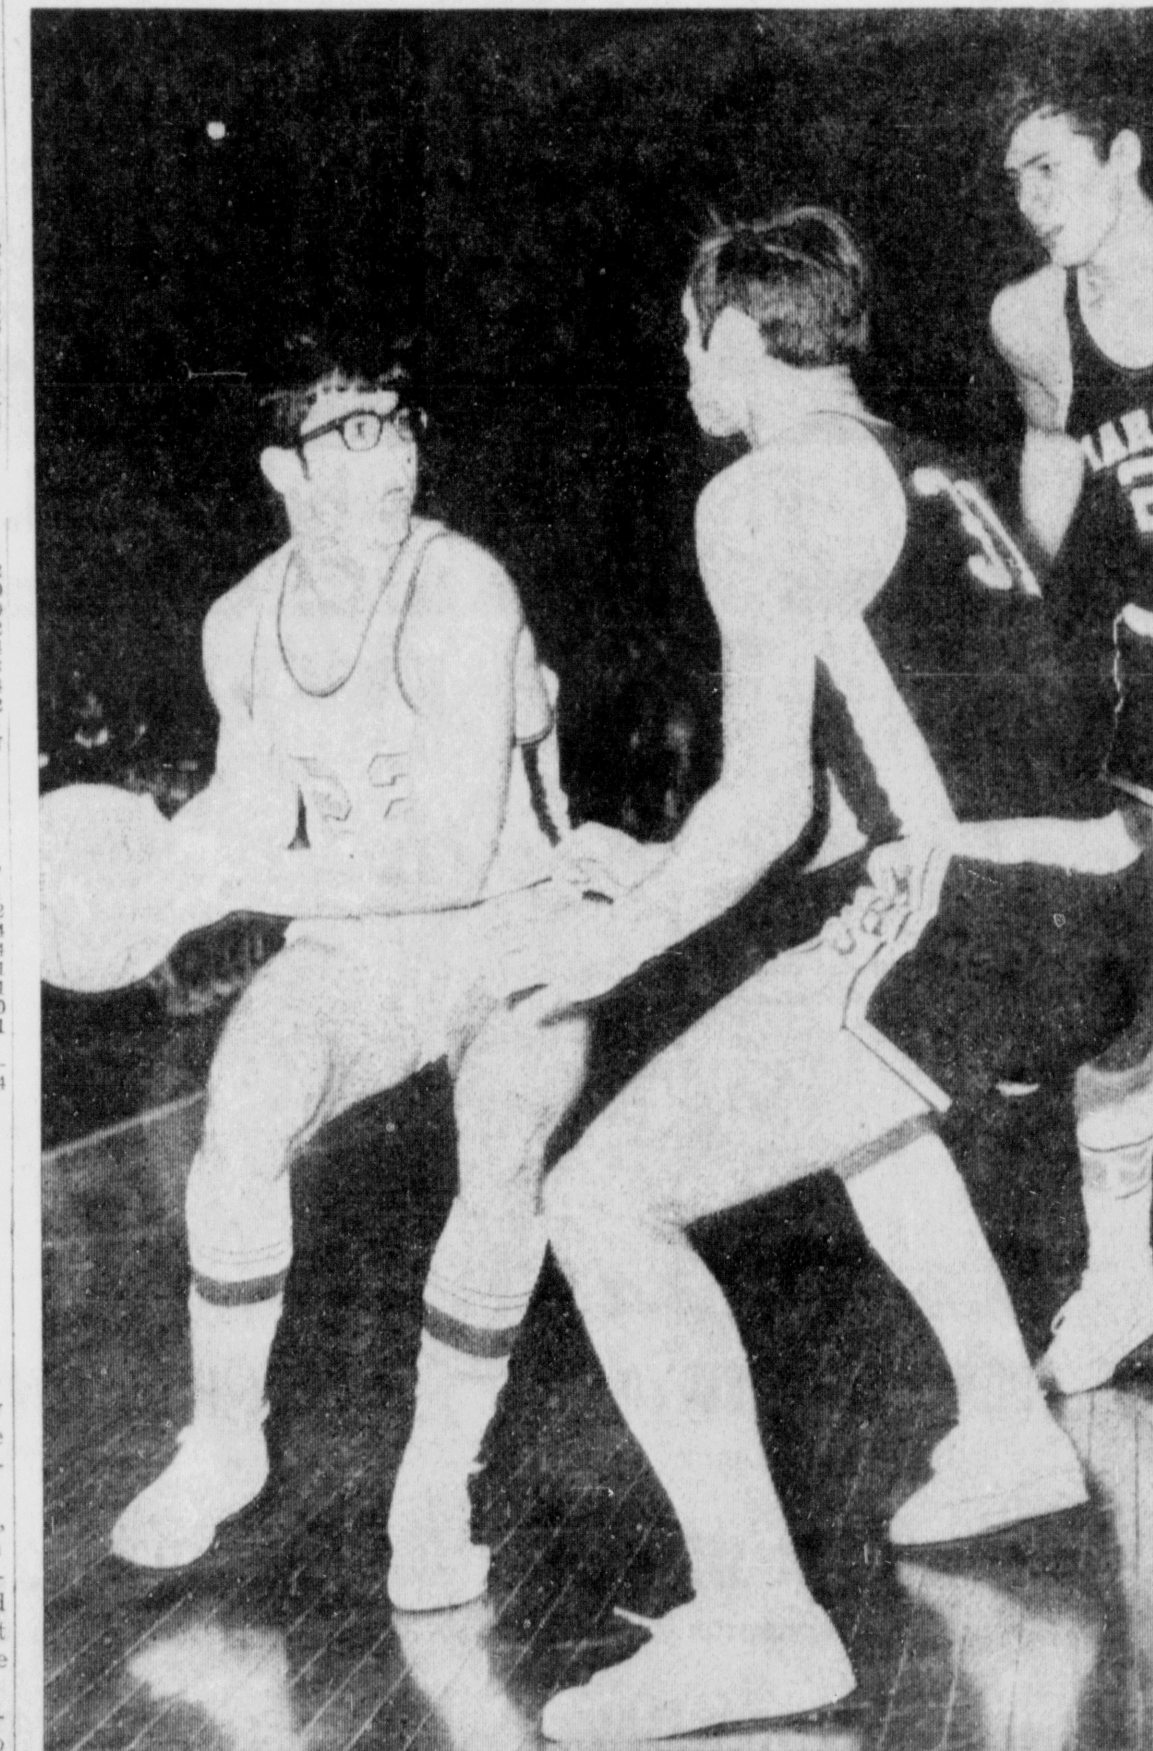

Also named to the squad were Donovan, Ray Bray of Norway, John McKinnon of St. Ignace, Leo Niemi of Eben, Jim Partanen of Bessemer, Brian Salvo of Houghton and Mike Schweig of Wakefield.

Kleiman was Holy Name's top scorer and rebounder in the tournament, tossing in 39 points and sweeping the boards for 33 rebounds. Skradski, especially effective with his outside shooting, scored 30 points in his two appearances, while Harvey was a real workhorse on the boards, pulling down 31 rebounds.

Donovan, a 6 foot 4 inch senior, scored 51 points in his two regional appearances and came up with 28 rebounds. In the championship game, he ripped the nets for 33 points before fouling out in the fourth period.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

KLEIMAN BROTHERS, Steve and Gary, played key roles in Holy Name's regional victory Saturday night. Gary, left, replaced Dan Young in the first period and wound up scoring 11 points in the contest and Steve, above, led the Crusaders in the scoring department with 22 points and pulled down 15 rebounds. Associated Press Claims Milwaukee Will Get Pilots

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee, which inherited the Braves from Boston in 1953 and lost them to Atlanta four years ago, is about to get another baseball team.

The Associated Press has learned from unimpeachable sources that the financially troubled Seattle Pilots' American League franchise will be shifted to Milwaukee for the start of the 1970 season.

The sources said the current owners, headed by William R. Daley of Cleveland, have the nine American League votes necessary to assure the transfer and the move will be approved at a league meeting Tuesday morning in Tampa, Fla.

In Milwaukee, Allan "Bud" Selig, head of Milwaukee Brewers, Inc., the group which will acquire the Pilots, said he would be in Tampa for Tuesday's meeting, but added:

"It has been our policy for six months not to commit until things are formally settled."

American League President Joe Cronin said early today in Sarasota, Fla., that the imminent franchise shift was "all news to me. I don't have any information. No vote has been taken. You have more information on this than I have."

Any franchise shift undoubtedly would be followed by a court battle. In fact, a show cause hearing is scheduled in Seattle on Thursday on a temporary order restraining any actions aimed at moving the Pilots out of town.

The order was granted on a suit by Alfred J. Schweppe, a Seattle attorney. The action also named the Bank of California, where Schweppe said his check for two 1970 season tickets was deposited. Schweppe said the suit enjoins the present owners from doing anything to move the franchise before Thursday.

He said the suit does not enjoin the American League from approving the transfer, but does bar action by the owners to carry it out.

Also last week, Seattle, King County and the State of Washington all mapped plans to join in a number of suits aimed at keeping the Pilots in Seattle.

U.S. Sens. Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, both Washington Democrats, reportedly were ready to introduce legislation in the Congress that would remove baseball's immunity from antitrust laws.

Daley, the Pilots' principal owner, and his associates paid the American League $6 million for the franchise, which began play last season. They reportedly spent an additional $2 million getting the team and facilities ready.

But the Pilots needed an attendance of 850,000 to break even and drew only 677,944 in antiquated Sicks' Stadium, which seats 28,500. Milwaukee's County Stadium holds 47,000.

A few days ago when asked if Milwaukee would be ready to take over, Selig was quoted: "When the Braves came in (to Milwaukee) they didn't have any local people to operate the club, they had not negotiated any television contracts or concessions and they they hadn't even rented County Stadium."

"We have an experienced ticket office now. We've negotiated all the TV contracts. We have the stadium. All we need to do is to sell a lot of tickets fast, and we can do that."

Tiger infielder Tom "Fresh" hit one home run for the Yankees in 45 games in 1969; after coming to the Tigers in a trade on June 14, he blasted 13 round-trippers in 94 games.

Dodger Bats Rip Nats In Slugfest

By The Associated Press
Bob Stinson's awesome power display Sunday might have won him a job with the Los Angeles Dodgers but it certainly didn't help Mike Whitson's chances any.

Stinson, a rookie catcher trying to stick with the parent Dodgers, crashed two home runs in one inning—an explosive nine-run 17th inning—leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 14-6 exhibition baseball victory over the Washington Senators.

A switch hitter, Stinson, batting left-handed, opened the big inning with a slam over the right field wall off Whitson. As the Dodgers batted around, Stinson came up again and bombed another clout, this one a two-run shot, capping the uprising. And again it was off right-hander Whitson, who absorbed all the punishment in the inning.

Stinson, who hit .281 at Spokane last year, cracked only six homers for the Pacific Coast League club in 117 games and none in a brief stay with the Dodgers at the end of the season.

In another wild extra inning affair, the Oakland A's, exploded for seven runs in the 11th inning in stopping Seattle's B squad 12-7. Joe Rudi, Tito Francona and rookie Jim Driscoll slammed homers for the A's.

Non-roster rookie catcher Bart Zeller drilled an 11th inning single, snapping a 1-1 tie and sending the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Another receiver, veteran John Edwards, knocked in the winner with an eight-inning single in Houston's 5-4 victory over Minnesota. It was the winless Twins' eighth straight loss.

Ron Woods slammed a two-run triple in the 11th inning, sending the New York Yankees to a 9-8 triumph over Montreal. Ron Fairly belted a home run for the Expos.

The Chicago Cubs rode the home run punch of Johnny Callison and Billy Williams to a 7-5 decision over San Francisco.

Seattle exploded for seven runs in the fourth inning and coasted past San Diego, 8-1.

Danny Breeden's run-scoring single capped a three-run ninth inning flurry by Cincinnati in the Reds' 7-6 triumph over the New York Mets. Joe Foy had a homer for New York.

Bob Robertson knocked in one run and Angel Manuel two as the Pittsburgh Pirates came up with three ninth inning tallies in their 6-4 victory over Mexico City.

Bob Mitchell's RBI single in the eighth inning proved the winner as Atlanta swept past Baltimore 8-7. The Braves got home runs from Orlando Cepeda, Rico Carty and Hank Aaron. It was Aaron's fifth of the spring.

Deron Johnson and Larry Hise supplied the power in Philadelphia's 7-5 triumph over Kansas City. Johnson slammed two homers and Hise one.

Gary Peters, Lee Stange and Jose Santiago limited Detroit to three hits and Rico Petrocelli led Boston's attack with four hits in the Red Sox 4-1 victory over the Tigers.

The Cleveland Indians got six third-inning runs and coasted to a 6-3 victory over California.

Wings Battling For Ice Berth

By The Associated Press
While the Detroit Red Wings were battling to stay in the National Hockey League Eastern Division's fourth place Sunday night, they still let Boston's Bobby Orr make history.

The Red Wings fought the Bruins to a 5-5 standoff, but Orr became the first defenseman in league history to score 100 points in a season Sunday night. He collected two goals and a pair of assists.

In other NHL games Sunday, Minnesota downed New York 4-2, Montreal and Toronto tied 3-3, Chicago ripped Los Angeles 5-2 and Oakland shaded Philadelphia 2-1.

Alex Delvecchio opened the scoring for Detroit 16 seconds after the opening faceoff. But Orr soon retaliated with a 25-footer at the end of a pretty passing play to tie the score at 2-2.

Frank Mahovlich scored the first of his two goals on a power play at 3:33 but again Orr engineered a Boston comeback, working free on a power play and blasting a slap shot which Johnny McKenzie tipped in at 10:40 to tie it up again.

The spectacular Orr sparked again when the Bruins were shorthanded in the opening minute of the second period. He streaked all the way up the ice and scored from right in front of the Detroit goal.

The Wings regained the lead in that period on goals by Mahovlich and Garry Unger. But Boston wouldn't say quit, and Phil Esposito tied it up on a power play at 1:00 of the third period. Orr picked up an assist.

The Rangers, reeling badly, had their winless streak stretched to 9 games by Worley and the North Stars with Billy Collins scoring twice and Ray Cullen's goal with just 75 seconds left to play breaking a 2-2 tie.

Top-Rated Kentucky Upset; Lanier Injured

By The Associated Press

Artis Gamore and Pembroke Burrows, Jacksonville's two 7-footers, suddenly look a lot taller to St. Bonaventure.

The Bonnies, shattered by the loss of All-American center Bob Lanier, are suddenly the underdogs against Jacksonville in their NCAA semifinal Thursday night (7:40 p.m., EST) at College Park, Md.

The fourth-ranked Dolphins, College basketball's Cinderella team, surprised top-ranked Kentucky 106-100 Saturday to reach the round of four, while the Bonnies beat Villanova 97-94.

Lanier was injured midway through the second half, after scoring 26 points in the East Regional final at Columbia, S.C. Lanier underwent successful surgery for torn ligaments in his right knee Sunday in Buffalo, N.Y.

The Bonnies, 25-1, went through most of the season using only six men. With Lanier out, the tallest, 6-foot-5 forward Matt Gantt, has shifted to center.

The Dolphins, buoyed by their stunning victory over Kentucky, in the Midwest Regional finals at Columbus, Ohio, now are only two steps away from a shot at the national championship, with UCLA the probable opponent in the final game next Saturday afternoon.

The Bruins, striving for their fourth straight national title, routed Utah State 101-79 in the West Regional final at Seattle. The second-ranked Bruins, 26-2, face fifth-ranked New Mexico State, which whipped Drake 87-

78 in the Midwest Regional finals at Lawrence, Kan.

UCLA eliminated the Aggies for the past two years when the Aggies were in the West region but Bruins Coach John Wooden isn't underestimating them.

"They have a senior team and I know they'll be really inspired," Wooden said.

In the NIT tournament in New York, Sunday, Pistol Pete Maravich dropped two foul shots with nine seconds left to play in LSU's 83-82 first-round nailbiter against Georgetown. Those two clutch shots won it for LSU, in what otherwise was a lackluster game for Maravich. He scored only 20 points, the second lowest total of his three-year varsity career.

In the other NIT game Sunday, Oklahoma edged Louisville 74-73, with the Sooners' Garfield Heard collecting 34 points.

In Saturday NIT games, eighth-ranked Marquette, which turned down a bid to the NCAA, beat Massachusetts 62-55; Manhattan shocked North Carolina 95-90; Army upset Cincinnati 72-67, and Utah defeated Duke 78-75.

Georgia Tech meets St. John's in tonight's quarter-finals and Manhattan faces Army. In quarter-final games Tuesday night, Utah takes on Marquette and LSU clashes with Oklahoma.

Atlanta Nearing Title In League

By The Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks are playing it hot and the Los Angeles Lakers are playing it stubborn in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

The Hawks whipped Phoenix 126-111 Sunday for their fifth victory in the last six games. Walt Hazzard fired in 36 points, hitting 17-of-23 shots from the field.

In Los Angeles five hours later, the Lakers pulled to within a game of the Hawks by beating the New York Knicks 106-101. The Lakers led for the first 40 minutes but then fought off a last-gasp rally by the Knicks, who clinched the Eastern Division title Saturday.

Jerry West scored 38 points for the Lakers and Dave DeBusschere hit 31 for New York.

In other NBA games Sunday, Chicago routed Milwaukee 130-107; Cincinnati edged Seattle 116-113; Baltimore beat Boston 130-127, and San Diego whipped Philadelphia 137-128.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana beat Carolina 114-110; the Los Angeles Stars defeated Pittsburgh 117-110; Washington nipped New Orleans 124-122; Denver beat Miami 126-111, and Kentucky blasted Dallas 146-125.

Chicago's Bob Love, a former Buck, poured in 47 points to lead the Bulls as the Bucks completed their last home game before three games on the road before the Eastern Division playoffs.

Lew Alcindor scored 30 points for the Bucks before leaving the game in the fourth quarter with an apparent hand injury.

The Royals' triumph over Seattle was their first in six games this year. Oscar Robertson helped break the jinx for Cincinnati by ripping in 14 points in the second quarter.

Robertson, the game's high scorer with 37 points, added 16 more in the final period after the Sonics tied the score.

The Bullets had to battle to beat the Celtics. The Celtics rallied from a 71-62 halftime deficit and went ahead 123-122 on Jim Barnes' basket from the top of the key with a minute left to play.

Gus Johnson hit on two free throws for Baltimore with 16 seconds left to give the Bullets a 126-123 lead.

John Havlicek was the game's high scorer with 37 points for Boston. Earl Monroe scored 35 for Baltimore.

San Diego rookie Bobby Smith poured in 15 points in a third period spurt which helped the Rockets take a 98-86 lead going into the final period.

San Diego's Jim Barnett led all scorers with 32 points. Wally Jones paced Philadelphia with 30.

Lotz Captures Monsanto Golf Championship

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Dick Lotz turned to golf because he was told to, almost quit and wouldn't want to do it all over again.

"Our dad told us to stick to golf and stay away from baseball," the perscable, 27-year-old Lotz said Sunday after scoring his biggest victory in the $150,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

Lotz, the son of a former Pacific Coast League pitcher, came on the tour along with brother John in 1964 and didn't make more than $3,000 in his next three seasons.

He won about $15,000 the next year—"just about made expenses"—vaulted to $23,000 the next season, $38,000 last year, including a victory in the $50,000 Alameda County Open, and then came into his own this season.

Lotz was second in that one, skipped the next tournament and finished fourth last week. That gave him winnings of $49,000 in his last three starts and pushed him into the No. 1 spot on the money winning list at $54,000.

Lotz, who has been under 70 in 10 of his last 11 competitive rounds, had a final 68 and finished at 275, nine under par and three strokes ahead of Dave Stockton, who took second with a 67.

Lotz started the day in a tie for the top with veteran Bill Collins, took sole control when Collins bogeyed the first hole and was in command the rest of the way. He stretched his lead to four strokes at one point and the last challenge failed when Ray Floyd bogeyed the 16th hole and took a double bogey six on the 17th.

Floyd finished with a 72 for 280. British Open champ Tony Jacklin, with a 71, and Homero Blancas, with a sparkling 64, tied at 281, followed by John Miller and Bob Charles, 282.

DOUBLEJOINTED COAL CAR — A new kind of coal car, with a joint in the middle for rounding curves, makes its appearance from shops in Johnstown, Pa. It was developed by the C. & O. and Bethlehem Steel. At 52 feet long, it is seven feet longer than the standard 100-ton car, can hold 120 tons.

Thermal Pollution Suit Could Set Precedent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's suit to force a Florida power company to construct safeguards against thermal pollution could become a landmark decision in man's battle to preserve the environment.

The suit against the Florida Power & Light Co. marks the first time the government has sought court action to halt possible pollution before any damage has occurred. And it focuses on nuclear power plants, a target of conservationists who fear hot water discharges will radically upset the balance of aquatic life.

The outcome will affect virtually all 15 nuclear generating plants now in operation in the United States and the scores under construction or in planning stages.

The government wants the Florida utility to modify its plans for reducing the temperature of cooling water at its Turkey Creek plant, currently being converted to nuclear power.

The company had planned to flush the artificially heated water into Biscayne Bay via a six-mile canal, stating the water will not harm the aquatic life in the bay.

This is in line with the position taken by most utility spokesmen when questioned about possible environmental damage at nuclear installations along the Great Lakes and coastal areas where there is an abundance of water.

The hot water at issue is created by the cooling process employed in most nuclear plants. Water is drawn from a bay or lake, circulated through the condensers and spewed back into the environment at temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees higher.

The volume of water used by nuclear reactors is huge. It is estimated, for example, that by the end of this decade nuclear and conventional power plants will discharge 20,000 cubic feet of hot water per second into Lake Michigan.

By comparison, the amount of water flowing into that lake from all tributary streams is 25,000 cubic feet per second.

This torrent of hot water could harm the delicate relationship between temperature and marine life, thus destroying aquatic life, scientists say.

"The interrelationships of species, length of daylight and water temperature are so intimate that even a small change in temperature can have far reaching effects," Kenneth N. Mackenthun and Lowell E. Keup, two Interior Department biologists, said in a paper presented to a recent power conference.

Temperature determines the species that can survive, triggers migrations and reproductive processes and stimulates or suppresses growth, the report said.

Higher temperatures increase as well the toxicity of pollutants such as pesticides, domestic sewage and refinery wastes.

Moreover, the biologists warn, water temperatures need not reach lethal levels to wipe out a species.

"Temperatures that favor competitors, predators, parasites and disease can destroy a species at levels far below those that are lethal," the report said.

Taking all this into consideration, the biologists asserted: "Because of its capacity to determine metabolic rate, temperature may be the most important single environmental entity to life and life processes."

Safety Unit Aids In Fire At Home

The Public Safety Fire Department was called to the James LeMaster home, Rte. 1, County Rd. 433, when fire broke out in an upstairs bedroom at 7:50 Saturday night. No injuries were reported to any family member.

Considerable damage resulted to the upper story bedrooms and roof. The fire is believed to have started from defective wiring, firemen said. The Manistique Township fire truck also responded to the call. The city truck returned to the fire hall at 10:30 p.m.

Non-Traffic Day Aim Of Students

SEATTLE (AP) — The more than half a million cars in Seattle would be stilled for one day if a high school group has its wish.

A group of Rainier Beach Junior-Senior High School students have enlisted the support of Seattle Councilman Sam Smith for the stop idea: to set aside May 3 aside as no-traffic Sunday.

The group, called Stop Traffic's Obnoxious Pollution, would have it a time for bicycling, hiking, walking, dancing in the streets—and seminars on the problems of pollution.

One student, Karen Wilson, advocated rollerskates, skateboards and walking as other means of transportation.

"It's a constructive idea," Smith said. "I think I'll get on the old bicycle, too."

Church Events

St. Alban's Episcopal
Father William Greer of Marquette, chairman of Christian Social Relations for the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, will speak at tomorrow night's meeting of the women of the church. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the undercroft.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Gerald DuFour and Mrs. James H. Fyvie.

Zion Lutheran Church

The mid-week Lenten Service will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Augustana Hall. "Freedom" is this week's word study.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Friday were Elizabeth Zimmerman, Glenn Stephens, Nanny Larson, Tim Harvey and Maryloyd Parsly.

Discharged were Terri Slaughter, Joseph LaLonde, Mary Milavec, Mike Klobucher, Lucille Litwin and Lorraine Ozanich.

Scribe Has Formula For Staying 'Young'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — True age is not measured by the years you have survived but by the way you still live.

Most people grow old unconsciously. Suddenly they are surprised to find they aren't young anymore. And the accompanying feeling of disillusionment makes them feel even older.

To keep from getting old before you have to, it is necessary to keep from doing those things which make you look, act and feel old.

For example, you are probably letting yourself get old prematurely if—

On most of the days you carry an umbrella it doesn't actually rain—you just thought it might. One of your kitchen drawers is stuffed with all kinds of string you have saved but could never possibly use.

You would rather read a long dull obituary in the newspaper than a stirring account of a sports event.

It occurs to you that you are talking more to yourself than you used to, and enjoying it less.

Silently you disapprove of the new pastor in your church because he talks too much about social issues instead of sticking to the dangers of sin and the perils of hellfire.

If the doctor can't find anything wrong with you, you start taking medicine habitually anyway; you figure anyone your age must have something wrong with him somewhere and therefore ought to be taking medicine to cure it, whatever it is.

Any mention of sex either bores you or makes you nervous. You can't see any reason why anybody would want to talk or write about it anyway. The whole business is vastly overrated.

Things don't seem to last as long as they did in the old days—lamps, light bulbs, rugs and shoestrings. Why, sometimes it seems like everything in the world is wearing out all at once.

It is longer than you can remember since you had a new idea or changed an old prejudice. You have a set opinion on every subject, and the opinion usually isn't too good.

You would rather cuss politics and politicians than discuss them.

The problems of young people no longer interest you. If you had your way, you'd just as soon the generation gap became a two generation gap.

Life has settled down to a series of rigid rituals for you. You avoid fresh adventures. It upsets you even if you have to turn a fresh corner and drive down a different street to get home.

You have lost the feeling of wonder, except that now and then you wake up in the middle of the night and wonder what life is all about and whether it is all worthwhile.

Yes, you are old—old too soon. But you have no one to blame but yourself. You let it happen to you.

A similar attempt to kill the fire failed Friday and the supply of the drilling mud was exhausted then. Nine truckloads of the sticky substance were brought in late Saturday from southern Illinois to allow work to continue.

There were no injuries in the fire, but it was expensive for the North American Drilling Co., which owns the well.

ROBBERY VICTIM
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mary Morgan, 53, has worked at Little Manor Restaurant for 14 years. During that time, she told police, she has been robbed 22 times.

During the latest robbery a man fired three shots into the restaurant's back wall while taking $15 from Mrs. Morgan and $3 from a customer. During the previous robbery a man held a kitchen knife to her throat as he took $10 from the cash register.

Horsetails, Dog Repellant Bought With Tax Monies

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a taxpayer this year you are spending billions for defense. You are also buying 155,000 pounds of horsetails, extra stiff. You are paying millions for foreign aid. And you are buying $108,240 worth of dog repellent. Welfare is a big expense. $396,004 for an unspecified number of electric erasers is a small one, in comparison.

Death Rates Low In Exclusive Area

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bel-Air, one of the most affluent residential sections of Los Angeles, has the lowest heart disease rate among 76 Los Angeles County areas studied by a university research team.

Results of a University of California at Los Angeles survey, made public recently, showed residents of the district-technically part of West Los Angeles—showed the death rate for males was 249 per 100,000 and 104 per 100,000 for females.

The California death rate from heart disease is 332 per 100,000 population.

Groundup ladybugs once were considered a remedy for toothaches, colic, and measles.

So is $10,000 for ant and roach bait. And $82,992 for doorbell rectifiers. And $27,195 for plastic badges and $25,022 for switch toggles, type 2.

But before writing your congressman, understand the federal government has explanations for these purchases.

For example, the dog repellent is used by postmen. The $443,448 worth of horsetail hair, extra stiff, black or grey, is used by federal prisoners at Leavenworth, Kan., to make brushes.

Wet salted cattlehide, bought for $190,572, is used to make footwear.

Explanations notwithstanding, the listing of federal contracts in official documents for 1970 boggles the mind.

There was $276,751 spent for rattan furniture, $44,100 for box lunches, $1,518,258 for barbed wire, $158,438 for plastic bags and $30,733 for disposable plastic specimen cups.

An emergency document destroyer, incendiary type, M3, cost $70,000. Window bars for CIA headquarters—first floor only—cost $24,875 to install.

A study of children's use of television cost $40,000 and repairs to an enlisted men's swimming pool $56,813.

The General Services Administration, the government's housekeeper, was a big spender. It bought an indefinite quantity of plastic policy for $33,743, plastic tableware for $17,230, portable typewriters for $74,214 and wrist watches for $408,200. "Dust pans, etc.," cost $33,154.

Food was a big expense. Salted soda crackers at 32 cents per pound cost $19,000. Shelled pecans, unroasted and unsalted, at $1.20 per pound cost $36,000. And there were canned tomatoes at $553,993, cranberry sauce for $85,381, dehydrated onion soup at $161,964 and green olives worth $1,232,812.

And for all the busy bureaucrats there was $380,749 worth of leather brief cases.

Abandon Land

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An 80-acre rifle and pistol range near Grand Haven, Mich., is being abandoned by the Coast Guard because of inadequate facilities to handle men in the unit's program. The Coast Guard said it also is concerned about increased housing in the area. The 27-year-old range is being considered for other uses, the Coast Guard said, or it may be turned over to the General Services Administration for disposition.

Delores Hope Receives Award

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Dolores Hope, wife of comedian Bob Hope, was cited recently as a symbol of all "waiting wives" by the USO at a banquet in the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

"Mrs. Hope," the USO said, award from Mrs. George Romney, was honored for the many Christmases she has spent at home with her family while her husband was overseas entertaining servicemen.

"Mrs. Hope, the USO said, "epitomizes the thousands of wives, mothers and sweethearts who have been alone while their loved ones were serving the distant corners of the globe."

Hope has made 19 Christmas tours during 27 years of entertaining American servicemen. His wife has accompanied him only three times.
